

DRAFT BILL DRAWN UP IN CONGRESS

STIFFER CURB PROPOSED FOR
JOHN L. LEWISACTION OF COURT
MONDAY AWAITED
IN COAL TIEUP

By ROGER D. GREENE
Washington, April 9 (P)—Rep. Hartley (R-NJ) said today that if the labor law he helped write fails to "put the brakes" on John L. Lewis, he will act quickly to clamp on stiffer curbs.

Hartley is chairman of the House Labor committee.

"I'm going to see what the court does to Lewis on Monday," he told a reporter.

"If it develops that the Taft-Hartley law is inadequate to deal with him, I'll proceed with hearings immediately."

Lewis is scheduled to appear Monday to "show cause" why he should not face a contempt of court trial for ignoring a back-to-work order. The 26-day-old strike resulted from a dispute over miners' pensions.

The United Mine Workers' chief was cited for contempt Wednesday by Justice T. Alan Goldsborough, the same judge who fined Lewis and his union $3,510,000 for ignoring a similar strike-restraining order in December, 1946. The supreme court later cut the union's penalty to $700,000 but left Lewis' personal fine at $10,000.

Law Violation Charged
While court action and possible new congressional moves hung fire, new trouble built up for Lewis and the UMW under the Taft-Hartley act.

The Southern Coal Producers Association formally accused Lewis and the Union of breaking the law by refusing to recognize the Association for bargaining purposes.

A complaint making that charge was filed with the National Labor Relations Board, which assigned it to the Baltimore Regional office for investigation.

That office can recommend action on an unfair labor practice

Blustery Weather
Sweeps Michigan,
But Stay Is Brief

By the Associated Press

Winter, complete with snow and blustery winds, blew back into Michigan Thursday night, but its stay should be brief.

Every weather station in the state reported snow flurries late Thursday, the U. S. weather bureau at Detroit said. However, snow on the ground was reported only at Cadillac and Traverse City, which had an inch each.

In southern Michigan gusts blew as high as 50 miles an hour late last night. By morning the stronger winds ranged from 20 to 30 miles an hour.

The mercury took a sharp tumble. It dropped in Detroit from a high of 66 Thursday to 39 at 5:30 a. m.

In Flint the fall was 62 to 26. Other temperature changes recorded were 60 to 28 at Jackson, 57 to 28 at Battle Creek, 58 to 28 at Saginaw and 43 to 17 at Sault Ste. Marie.

PONTIAC SPIKES CLOCKS
Pontiac, Mich., April 9 (P)—The city commission Thursday night approved daylight saving time for Pontiac from April 24 to Sept. 18.

An advisory vote by citizens last Monday had favored the move. It follows adoption by Detroit of daylight saving time.

FRIENDSHIP TRAIN IN VIENNA—While Russia was making conciliatory gestures by reducing her reparations demands on Austria, the Austrian people got a concrete object lesson in the ways of true democracy. Into Vienna puffed this flag-bedecked Friendship Train, bearing 1100 tons of food and clothing sent by Americans of four northwestern states and Alaska.

STENSON FRAUD
TRIAL DELAYEDFormer Solon Reported
Ill At Green Bay

Lansing, April 9 (P)—An adjournment until May 6 was ordered Thursday in the municipal court hearing here of charges of false pretenses and fraudulent conversion of $7,600 against William C. Stenson, 47, of Greenland, former Upper Peninsula state representative.

Stenson failed to make an appearance and Judge Paul C. "Peggy" entered his bond of $7,500 forfeited. The action came despite a sworn statement presented by his attorney, which stated that Stenson was hospitalized at Green Bay, Wis., under the care of two physicians.

Evidence was taken at the hearing despite the absence of the defendant. One of the witnesses, Glen F. Hunt, federal administrator of war assets for the state of Washington, made the trip from the west coast to testify in the case.

Lester A. Davidson, Lansing contractor, testified he paid Stenson $7,600 to purchase four bulldozers from the WAA at Moellitz. Wash. Davidson said he did not receive the bulldozers and was not refunded the money. Davidson said the bulldozers sold for about $7,500 each at that time and currently sell for about $13,000 each.

Hunt said there was no such city as Moellitz in Washington and that no matter of a sale of bulldozers was ever sent to Stenson.

Ionia County Man
Beats Up Family,
Cuts Own Throat

Hubbardston, Mich., April 9 (P)—A 40-year-old farmer, who assaulted his wife and two daughters with a hammer yesterday, took his own life as police were en route to arrest him.

Principals were Norman Handlon, his wife, Irene, 29; and the daughters, Norma, 10, and Margaret, 8. Another daughter, Alice, 6, escaped by running into the farm yard.

Ionia County Sheriff Richard Dodes said Handlon, who had been suffering from periods of depression for some time, took his own life by slashing his throat.

Volcano Beclouds
Nicaraguan Town

Managua, Nicaragua, April 9 (P)—Many inhabitants have fled Leon, some 50 miles northwest of Managua, because of an eruption of ashes from nearby Cerro Negro volcano. Visibility in the city has been cut to 10 yards. The volcano's latest period of activity began several days ago. Similar eruptions nearly buried Leon several months ago.

Truck Driver Hangs
For Murdering Wife

Lethbridge, Alberta, April 9 (P)—Lloyd Smith, Calgary truck driver, was hanged today for the hammer murder of his bride of a month. Smith, 27, said he had spent a night visiting bawdy houses and killed his wife next day because he "loved her and didn't want to cause her any unhappiness."

COLLISION KILLS MOTHER

Grand Rapids, Mich., April 9 (P)—Mrs. Winnie Diefenbaker, 48, of rural Caledonia, was killed Thursday night in a two-car accident near the Grand Rapids south city limits. Her husband, Freeman, 51, and two children, Robert, 9, and Phyllis, 22, were critically injured.

Vandenberg May Be
Factor In Nebraska
Presidential Tryout

BY JACK BELL

Omaha, April 9 (P)—The possibility developed today that Senator Arthur Vandenberg—who says he isn't running—may influence the result of Nebraska's G. O. P. presidential primary.

Vandenberg is one of seven whose names have been entered in next Tuesday's voting. Nebraska Republicans will say that man they would like the party to nominate for president at the June Philadelphia convention.

The Michigan senator isn't campaigning. In fact, he tried to get his name withdrawn. This was in line with his repeated statements that he isn't a candidate and will not "connive" in a draft movement.

But Nebraska politicians who know their way around say there is some strong sentiment in the state for the chairman of the Senate foreign relations committee.

These politicians do not suggest that Vandenberg, without any campaign or any organization and without being a candidate, can top the list of possible list of nominees in the balloting here.

But they do contend that he is likely to be among the top four. The three leaders generally are expected to be Harold E. Stassen, who walked away with the Wisconsin primary, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York and Senator Robert A. Taft.

The politicians here haven't figured out yet which of the three would be hit hardest by an unexpectedly large Vandenberg vote.

Stassen, who has been unstinting in his praise of Vandenberg's record, hinted at a news conference here yesterday he thinks the vote cast for some of those who aren't campaigning in Nebraska may cloud the primary outcome.

Besides Vandenberg, the names of Gen. Douglas MacArthur, Gov. Earl Warren and House Speaker Joseph Martin will appear on the Tuesday ballot. None of the latter has made a campaign, although Warren made one speech in the state.

MacArthur, who gathered in eight delegates to Stassen's 19 in Wisconsin, is not looked upon as much of a factor in the contest here.

"I confess seven of the government's best divisions were destroyed in Manchuria. They were my best armies that under my command accomplished the revolutionary campaigns with glory."

These divisions are being reorganized, Chiang said, adding: "I refuse to admit defeat because our fighting strength is still powerful."

He promised, however, to defend not only Central and North China but Manchuria as well, vowing: "In 30 years or 60 years the Reds will not conquer China."

On the subject of inflation, the generalissimo declared China is solvent. He said China has enough gold, silver, other assets and U. S. dollar credits to recall all of the Chinese currency afloat.

Mihai and Mother
Return to Europe

Shannon Airport, Eire, April 9 (P)—Ex-King Mihai and his mother, Queen Helen, returned to Europe today after a visit in the United States.

Mihai, who abdicated the Romanian throne last December and renounced the abdication in March, told reporters he had no plans for the future.

"How can one plan nowadays?" said his mother.

Tokyo Thieves Take
Emperor's Chickens

Tokyo, April 9 (P)—Thieves seem to be taking literally this democratic idea about the Emperor being only human after all. They invaded the Imperial Palace grounds—which in the old days was sacred soil—and made off with 15 white leghorn chickens raised personally by the Emperor.

DOG CAUSES LAWSUIT

Detroit (P)—Penny, a black cocker spaniel whose sudden dart between the legs of Miss Elizabeth Homberg, 75, caused her to fall and break an arm and her glasses, cost his master $250 in damages. Arthur Pitcher was ordered Thursday by Common Pleas Judge Neal Fitzgerald to pay the sum to Miss Homberg.

SIGLER PILES UP WORK FOR STATE SOLONSHOUSE IMPATIENT TO ADJOURN, MAY
BOLT TUESDAY

Lansing, April 9 (P)—Governor Sigler piled three more subjects on the legislative desk today as pressure mounted in the House to adjourn.

House leaders sought to control a membership demand for adjournment next week, a move which probably would leave much of Sigler's program stranded. The Senate, so far, has appeared willing to take a little longer.

The Senate had sent all but two of its appropriation bills to the House, had a $2,514,538 deficiency bill on the floor for debate Tuesday and held back only on a $20,000,000 construction appropriation.

Long Recess Taken
The House had only two budget bills still in its hands, one of them up for a vote Tuesday. So the lawmakers could adjourn quickly if they bolt the governor's platform.

Both chambers agreed to recess today until Tuesday afternoon. Still giving the lawmakers at least one new subject a day to tackle, Sigler sent in three Thursday.

One would pay judges' pensions out of increased court filing fees, another would repeal the 10-month-old Michigan community property law and the third would stop election-day registrations if local officials consent.

The adjournment fever symptoms were apparent in the House as members highballed five minor bills to pass the same day they were reported by committees and grumblings were heard over postponement of an appropriation measure over the weekend.

The House committee on amendment of the constitution reported for debate a battered version of Sigler's proposed amendment to give the governor four-year terms and let him appoint the secretary of state and attorney general.

School Aid On Desk
The committee dumped the appointive feature overboard altogether and provided that all state officials be elected to four-year terms. The governor alone would be limited to two four-year terms.

Two of Sigler's proposed constitutional amendments, both permitting the legislature to fix its own and state officials' salaries, were moved up in the Senate for a vote Tuesday without debate. Their chances of passage looked reasonably good, sponsors said.

The Senate also will vote Tuesday.

Liberator of Asia
At Criminal Trial

Tokyo, April 9 (P)—Hideki Tojo was pictured here as a liberator of Asia whose trial as a war criminal violates Allied promises.

That picture was presented in the war prime minister's final summation, read by Defense Counsel George Francis Blewett. It will take nearly three days to complete the 70,000 word argument.

The statement argued that the Allies had promised the Japanese people they would not be enslaved, but the trial was an attempt to enslave the 25 wartime leaders who are being tried.

Tojo, who prepared part of the argument himself, said Japan's aim was "the liberation of the oppressed nations of East Asia" and it was absurd to call that a crime.

Yugoslavia Closes
Border to Block
Her Draft-Dodgers

Trieste, April 9 (P)—Allied sources said today Yugoslavia will close its occupation zone border with the British-American zone in the free territory April 23.

These sources, who have underground connections in Yugoslavia, said only one main road will be left open.

Yugoslavia, the informants said, apparently is trying to stop the escape of young men and women from the Yugoslav army draft. About 100 of them recently fled into the British-American zone. It was reported.

According to the Allied sources only the block post on the main highway, known as the Pola road, will be open to traffic between the zones. The block post is at the little town of Albaro Vesceva.

Residents of each zone have been permitted by both Yugoslav and British-American officials to cross the borders freely.

Freighter Aground
On Straits Shoal;
Crew Of 33 Safe

Charlevoix, Mich., April 9 (P)—Heavy seas subsided today to ease the peril for 33 seamen aboard the stranded freighter William P. Palmer, aground in the Straits of Mackinac.

However, a Coast Guard vessel hovered near the crippled 48-year-old ship to remove the crew if necessary.

Seaman First Class Dan Benner at the Beaver Island Coast Guard station said 30-mile an hour winds had dropped to about 15 miles an hour and towering seas had subsided.

A few hours earlier, the 580-foot Palmer, a long gash in her hull, had been reported "in danger of breaking up" as she lay on White Shoals at the mercy of 16 foot waves.

The Palmer, skippered by Capt. Matthew M. Crawford of Duluth and formerly of Port Huron, Mich., grounded on the shoals on the Lake Michigan side of the Straits.

It was her second mishap on the first trip of the 1948 season. The 7,602 ton vessel was blown ashore near Port Huron March 27 by a sudden storm. She was refloated without damage, however.

Standing by were the Coast Guard cutter Woodbine and a Coast Guard lifeboat from Beaver Island. A lighter and tug from Sault Ste. Marie were on hand to lighten the Palmer's cargo of stone when the storm abated.

The same northwesterly winds that battered the Chicago-bound freighter plugged the vital St. Mary's river with ice from Lake Superior and stopped ship traffic northwest of the Soo Locks.

Six or seven freighters were reported having "heavy going" in Whitefish Bay, at the northwest end of the river, as the gale-like winds piled ice into ship lanes.

The icebreaker Mackinac and the ice-breaking ferry Sainte Marie were fighting to clear the channels in Whitefish Bay while the Coast Guard cutter Mesquite worked along the lower St. Mary's river.

The disabled Palmer, fast aground about 48 miles north of Charlevoix, had a cargo of stone from Rogers City, Mich., for Chicago. It went aground Wednesday night in what Coast Guards termed "almost zero visibility."

HITLER GUARDS
ARE CONVICTEDTwenty Face Death For Murder Of Million

By THOMAS A. REEDY

Nuernberg, Germany, April 9 (P)—Twenty officers of Hitler's SS (elite guard) were convicted of wholesale murder today in an American finding so biting the death penalty for many seemed inescapable. Sentences will be announced tomorrow morning.

A three-judge court found them guilty on all three counts of an indictment charging the killing of at least a million Jews, Gypsies and others classified by the Nazis as racial undesirables. Only two of the 22 men in the dock were found innocent in any degree.

Convicted of all three counts were four SS generals, 12 colonels, three majors and one lieutenant.

They were commanding officers of the Einsatz commandos. These were units, none of more than 2,000 men, established by Reinhard Heydrich, chief of the security service. They were sent into Russia behind the rampaging German armies to wipe out whole classes of people Hitler and Goebbels, Heinrich Himmler thought were better off dead.

Mainly they exterminated Jews. Their own records, introduced in court, showed at least a million slain. The prosecution held that maybe 2,000,000 died from their bullets or in their gas vans.

See-Saw Battle
For Arab Village
Is Won by Jews

By the Associated Press

Haganah fighters recaptured Kastel today in the seven-day see-saw battle for the strategic Arab village commanding a Jewish lifeline to food-short Jerusalem, a Jewish agency spokesman announced.

Haganah, the Jewish militia, had held the village through six days of fierce Arab attacks until yesterday, when a strong Arab force stormed it. The Arab commander, Abdul Khader Hussein, cousin of the exiled Mufti of Jerusalem, was reported by Arab officials to have been killed in the assault. Latest reports said five other Arabs and nine Jews were killed in yesterday's fighting.

BIG PROGRAM LAUNCHED FOR
U. S. SECURITYREGISTRATION PLAN
TO CALL ALL MEN,
18 THROUGH 30

Washington, April 9 (P)—Senate Republican leaders agreed today to place military legislation ahead of all business.

The Senate will begin consideration of temporary draft, a larger air force, universal military training or any other defense measure as soon as its Armed Services committee reaches an agreement.

Although major attention was centered on boosting the nation's air power other moves followed the lines laid down by Secretary of Defense Forrestal. He cautioned Congress not to build up only military arm at the expense of any other.

"National security demands balanced forces," the secretary declared, adding "dollars alone do not guarantee the delivery" of military goods.

Veterans Exempted
These were highlight developments along the lengthening preparedness front:

1. The House Armed Services committee drew up a draft bill requiring registration of all men 18 through 30, but making only those 19 through 25 liable for two years service.

Veterans with a year or more war service would have to register, but would be exempt; those with 90 days, but less than a year's service also would be exempt if they join reserve units of the army, navy or air forces.

National Guardsmen and Reservists would have to register, but would not be liable for the draft.

A deferment policy, for dependency, occupation or schooling, would be left to the president to decide.

Forrestal who will testify at opening hearings Monday proposed much the same legislation, but his called for registration of men up to 45. He was due to discuss the draft before the Senate Armed Services Committee today (10 a. m. EST).

2. The House Appropriations committee raced into hearings on a bill to pour $725,000,000 into a warplane expansion drive. Forrestal put the "highest priority" label on these funds for the Air Force and Fleet aviation. Chairman Taber (R-NY) is speeding action to have the bill ready for House consideration Tuesday.

3. The White House told the War Assets Administration to hold up final disposition of unsold industrial plants, machine tools and other equipment needed for war production. The stop-order was issued to permit the munitions board to survey the items in

BISHOP SPEAKS AT RALLY HERE

Says Scandinavia Not Joining Russia

What happened in Czechoslovakia cannot be accepted as an indication of just what the Russians will do in Finland, Sweden and the other Scandinavian countries, Rev. Theodor Arvidson of Stockholm said in an address at the Swedish Pioneer Centennial rally at the Wm. W. Oliver auditorium last night.

Rev. Mr. Arvidson is bishop of Methodism in Sweden, Finland, Norway and Denmark, and has kept in close touch with religious and political conditions in Europe.

"The situations in Czechoslovakia and Finland are different," Bishop Arvidson explained. "The Czechs are closely related to the Russians. Their languages are similar, and they have long regarded Russia as a big brother. But Finland has long considered Russia as her natural enemy, and will go only as far as she has to in making any agreements with the Moscow government. If Russia approaches the other Scandinavian countries with similar proposals, I am sure she will be careful not to force unsatisfactory agreements upon them. Norway, Sweden, and Denmark are still independent and their sympathies are with the West."

Bishop Arvidson reported that the Christian church still functions in Estonia, Latvia and the Russian-occupied zones in Germany, but that the clergymen and their followers must be careful not to say or do anything that will offend the governmental authorities. Rumors that the church in Norway had collaborated with the Nazi occupation forces during the war were vigorously denied by the speaker, who pointed out that the presence of a common enemy had, in fact, served to unite all the different religious denominations. In Sweden, there has been Communist-inspired agitation to prohibit Bible reading in the schools, but this type of religious program continues.

Bishop Arvidson discussed social conditions in Sweden briefly. He mentioned that Sweden, a country of 6,300,000 population and an area of 137,000 square miles had endeavored to follow "the middle way" between the left and right. Sweden has never stood still, he added, but has always adopted what social and political reform she thought best for the community. The child is regarded as the responsibility of the community in Sweden, he added, and so the government allots 240 kroner to pay the expenses for the birth of each child. An old age pension is paid regardless whether the aged person is rich or poor, since the payment is not classified as indigent aid.

A. Theodore Sohlberg of Gladstone, chairman of the Delta County Swedish Pioneer Centennial committee, who presided at the meeting, explained that the centennial celebrations are being held to commemorate the arrival of the Swedish pioneers in the Middle West and to recognize the contributions of the Swedish people to the development of America. Rev. Karl J. Hammar, secretary of the committee and pastor of the Central Methodist church, introduced Bishop Arvidson.

An inspiring religious music program was presented by the Orpheus Choral club, directed by Sam Ham; the Gladstone Octette, and Mrs. Marie Olson at the piano. The invocation and benediction were given respectively by Rev. John Anderson, pastor of the Ev. Covenant church of Escanaba, and Rev. C. V. S. Engstrom, pastor of the Ev. Covenant church of Gladstone. A large crowd attended the rally.

A whole series of tough, serviceable new paints from lactic acid have been developed.

340 New Industries Are Located On C&NW Lines

Total operating revenues of $1,626,190 for 1947 were the highest in the history of the Chicago and North Western Railway company, according to the company annual report released today which showed that wage increases and mounting costs of supplies, taxes and rents were responsible for reduction of net income from $1,119,832 in 1946 to $9,000,000 in 1947. Total operating revenues for 1946 were $1,600,000.

Operating expenses increased $11,200,000 or 6.2 per cent as compared with 1946, said R. L. Williams, president of the company, who pointed out in connection with 1947 wage increases that "it is estimated the increases in wages cost the company approximately $3,610,000 in 1947 and will cost the company approximately $13,000,000 in 1948 (assuming $1.24 per day increase for engineers and firemen in the dispute not yet settled)." The report includes a table showing the average annual compensation of employees has risen progressively from $1,772 in 1929 to $3,294 in 1947.

Freight Traffic Increases
Total revenue freight traffic, other than iron ore, increased more than 2,000,000 tons while iron ore alone increased 2,326,000 tons in 1947 as compared to 1946. Passenger revenue decreased 26 per cent due largely to decreases in military traffic. The railroad's "400" fleet of streamliners continues to carry a substantial volume of passenger traffic during the year, which was also marked by the placing in daily service of the streamliners "City of Los Angeles," "City of San Francisco," and "City of Portland" between Chicago and West Coast cities.

A total of 340 new industries were located on the line during the year 1947 said Williams, commenting that "the marked movement toward relocation of industrial plants into the states served by the company offers much encouragement for their future economic stability." Williams also pointed out that an 18-mile extension of the line from South Dakota across the state line into Wyoming was authorized in order to serve extensive deposits of bentonite and processing plants being erected in that area.

More Diesels Acquired
During 1947 the company acquired thirty-nine 1500-horsepower diesel freight locomotive units, fifteen 2000-horsepower diesel passenger locomotives and three diesel switching locomotives. In addition, 140 70-ton all-steel covered hopper cars were acquired, 495 all-steel hopper cars rebuilt, and delivery received on twenty-six all-steel streamlined passenger coaches. Considerable improvements were made on eight 4-8-4 type steam locomotives, and 43 additional portable red oscillating signal lights were purchased for operation on rear of passenger trains.

Additions and betterments to roadway property in 1947 included beginning of construction of a modern servicing and repair shop for diesel locomotives; a 30 per cent completion of centralized traffic control between Chicago and Nelson, Illinois; construction of a number of modern fuel stations, laying of foundations for three large bridges in eastern Iowa where spans will be erected this year and installation of a freight car dumper at the Council Bluffs, Iowa, grain elevator. One hundred and thirty-one miles of track were relaid with new controlled cooled 112-pound rail and an aggregate of 200 miles of track was ballasted and surfaced out of face.

The company continued in 1947

its "housecleaning" program started in 1939 for abandonment and removal of unnecessary and unused facilities. Those properties retired since 1939 include 1,104 miles of unproductive and unnecessary branch lines and side tracks, more than 1,700 buildings of various types, 142 fuel and water stations and 1,405 minor structures.

As the company entered 1948, its centennial year of operations, it had on order 14 diesel locomotives of various types, 1000 50-ton box cars, 47 streamlined passenger train cars of various types, one 30-ton diesel locomotive crane and one 250-ton wrecking crane.

The report reveals that the company decreased its funded debt in 1947 by $3,018,501 bringing the total reduction in capitalization since June 1, 1944, date of consummation of the company's reorganization, to almost $76,000,000.

During the year 1947 a total of $5 a share was paid on preferred stock and 50 cents per share on common stock of the company.

The report pictorially presents a contrast of today's operations with those of earlier years in the company's history, the illustrations dealing with comparison of locomotive power, transcontinental trains, interior of dining cars, changes in locomotive servicing facilities as well as a comparison of the company's first and current Chicago passenger terminal.

A tomato blight in 1946 which spread from Florida to Canada and inland to Indiana cost commercial tomato growers an estimated $50,000,000.

BENDER HEADS HISTORY GROUP

Delta Society Officers Elected Last Night

The Delta County Historical Society last night elected Frank A. Bender Jr. of Danforth president for the ensuing year. Bender is actively interested in the preservation of historical material, and has an M. A. degree in American history from the University of Michigan.

Other officers elected at the meeting held in the Gladstone library were:

Mrs. George Jensen of Escanaba, vice president; Mrs. Nancy Thomas of Escanaba, secretary; Alfred Croce of Croce, treasurer. The officers and the following persons will compose the board of directors of the organization: Arvid Mustonen, Rock; Henry Boyle, Bark River; Mrs. C. E. Hawkins, Gladstone; Mrs. S. W. Brennan and Mrs. W. J. Anthony, Escanaba; Miss Adele Elliott, Sack Bay; A. T. Sohlberg and Hagle Quarstrom, Gladstone; Charles Follo and Clint Dunathan of Escanaba; Frank Barron, Flat Rock.

The Delta County Historical Society will be affiliated with the Michigan Historical Society, and its members will receive Michigan History Magazine and other publications and assistance from the state in its local program.

Meetings of the Delta county history group will be held regularly the second Thursday of each month, with the next meeting scheduled for May 13. It is the intention to meet in various communities of the county, and the place of the next meeting will be announced later.

Charter memberships in the organization will be available at the next meeting, and at that time there will be a discussion of plans for an active program to assemble and preserve material of historical importance in the Delta county community.

The Need For Facilities

The city recreation board this week presented a list of additional facilities for which an urgent need now exists in Escanaba for development and improvement of the municipal recreation program. It has also recommended that the city council study the list and to provide funds for the installation of the needed facilities.

The need for improvement of existing playgrounds and development of additional ones to serve areas where such facilities do not now exist is apparent if the city hopes to attain better value for its recreational dollars. It is inconsistent to provide funds to pay wages and salaries of personnel to run a recreation program and then deny the facilities that are needed to make such a program fully effective.

The program that the recreation board has outlined is not a long range plan to meet the needs of the future. It is a plan to meet the immediate need, a request for facilities that are desired now to permit a greater participation in the community recreation program. In general the city's playgrounds are hardly worthy of the name. They lack equipment, in some instances even the bare essentials of a moderate program.

During the present fiscal year which ends June 30, the city will spend something like $30,000 for community recreation. The program has reached an unusually large percentage of the public, young and old of both sexes. The point is, however, that the development of additional much needed facilities at a cost of $15,000 to $20,000 in capital investment would permit a sharp expansion in the program without any material increase in the cost of operating the department.

Just Good Business

THE retailer struggles to keep the price of merchandise within reach of the consumer, not for altruistic reasons, but because by so doing he can sell the most goods. The chain stores were pioneers in proving on a large scale the unquestioned worth of such a policy. Today all progressive retailers follow this practice and hold prices below the level the pressure of demand would make possible.

Chain Store Age says: "In falling markets, chain store prices have always reflected current replacement costs rather than the actual prices paid for the merchandise offered. Giving their customers the benefit of the decline immediately instead of attempting to hold retail prices at a level representing the actual wholesale cost, is standard practice for the food chains." This is the case with practically all merchandising. Greater sales counteract temporary losses brought about by declining inventory values.

This is a great change from the old days when a crossroads store dominated a whole area with a take-it-or-leave-it policy. Fast transportation which permitted wider distribution of goods and greater competition destroyed such monopolies in merchandising. Today the consumer can trade at a store of his choice, in city or rural areas.

Modern retailing depends upon mass purchasing which can only be encouraged by reasonable prices, hence our present retailing system including both chain and independent stores is the best safeguard the public has against price gouging.

Dewey Loses Wisconsin

POLITICAL SAVANTS are studying the election returns from Wisconsin and they have come up with some extremely interesting information. Stassen's overwhelming victory in Wisconsin was a distinct surprise that skyrocketed him more prominently into the presidential race. Gen. MacArthur was knocked completely from the contest as a result of the Wisconsin voting and Gov. Dewey sustained a blow that may have crippled his own chances for the Republican nomination.

Dewey was not expected to win a majority of the delegates in the Wisconsin election but it was generally conceded that he needed to make a substantial showing to maintain a strong position in the presidential race. As a favorite son, political observers had predicted a victory for MacArthur in Wisconsin. MacArthur won only eight delegates, the remaining 19 going to Stassen. Dewey drew a blank, reflecting the opinion of Wisconsin voters that the New York governor has had his chance for the presidential office and that some other candidate should be chosen. If this viewpoint is also held by the Nebraska voters in the next big test of presidential candidates, it probably means that Dewey has diminishing chances of capturing the nomination.

Vandenberg's chances for nomination as the GOP convention are accelerated by developments in the Wisconsin election. The possibility of a deadlock in the convention is indicated by the trend of the voting. It is probable that no candidate will go to the convention with anything like a majority of delegate votes committed for him. Vandenberg has repeatedly insisted that he does not desire the presidential office, but it is generally felt that the Michigan statesman would accept the nomination if his party should seek him as a candidate.

Gestapo Not Wanted

REP. PHILLIPS of Port Huron has introduced into the legislature, with the blessing of Gov. Sigler, a bill to organize a secret police squad in Michigan.

We hasten to suggest that the legislature just forget about it. The measure would empower the state police commissioner to set up a spy system which would investigate subversive activities. Records and expenditures of the squad would be kept secret.

Gov. Sigler is for the plan because he contends he would not have been able to accomplish anything in the graft investigations if he had not engaged secret investigators from outside sources.

We strongly feel that neither Michigan nor Gov. Sigler needs a Gestapo-like organization of this type. The plain clothes division of the present state police system is prepared to carry on all the secret investigation work that is required. As far as subversive activities are concerned, the Federal Bureau of Investigation is always ready to step in and help.

"MINORS" VS. ADULTS
(Iron Mountain News)

Since certain young men of the community persist in acts which bring them into court, and their names continue to appear in The News, it is time, perhaps, to reaffirm The News' policy in the matter. There has been criticism of this policy, mostly from parents of young men who get into trouble.

First, The News fully recognizes the heartache and embarrassment caused the parents by these thoughtless acts of youth. We assume no "hardboiled" or flippant attitude about this matter, for we realize, from the pleadings of parents and other family members, what it means. It seems somewhat unfair, however, that The News should bear the brunt of the criticism, once the due processes of the law have been exercised in the protection of the community against these acts.

There can be no just criticism of the police or the courts for performing their duties. There would be something drastically wrong with a society which would condone these acts, or seek to persuade or prevent the police or the courts from proceeding in these matters.

The News will continue, in its own judgment and discretion, to publish the names of youths who are brought into any court, in this area, on charges of a criminal nature and who admit, or are found guilty of these acts. And if this reaffirmation of policy serves to discourage any other "juveniles" who have similar plans, then The News will not have been as far wrong in this policy as some would have us believe.

SMELT

(Menominee Herald-Leader)

If the Chicago Tribune is quoting Ray P. Laufenberg, secretary of the Menominee Chamber of Commerce, correctly, the success of this year's Twin City Smelt Carnival is assured. The Tribune yesterday reported: "Ray Laufenberg said the mass of smelt in some portions of the (Menominee) river is so dense fish literally crowd the shores. It was possible simply to reach down and grab a handful, he said." This should excite thousands of Chicago fishermen (20 Chicago fishermen arrived last night to dip smelt) and make them want to come up here and thrust their hands into the Menominee river and scoop up smelt. But it isn't so apt to excite fishermen in Menominee and Marinette because they have been looking for smelt for weeks and they haven't observed the phenomenon ascribed to Mr. Laufenberg. For years we regretted extravagant claims of Escanaba about smelt prevalence and now we've done it ourselves.

It's better to begin at the bottom and work up than to begin in the middle and stay there.

Home is a place where some men go to rave because something went wrong at the office.

SECRETARY'S HANDBOOK

(Scrapbook Item)

Q. My boss dictated. (This move will be conducive to better labor-management relations.) Is "conductive" correct?—A. M. A. No. Conducive suggests conductivity, as of electricity. The proper word is conducive, "tending to promote; helpful; favorable to."

Q. Say that one was born in one city, but now makes one's home in another. Can such a person say that he is a native of the latter place?—M. G. W.

A. No. A native is one who was born in a particular place. The word native is from the French natif, from the Latin nativus, "born; that which has come into existence by birth." A person born in Boston is a native Bostonian, although he may now live in Chicago, in which case he is a resident or citizen of Chicago, and may properly call himself a Chicagoan.

World Events Analyzed

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington.—So fast are changes occurring that the Rip Van Winkle who comes back after only a few years or, for that matter, even a few months of absence finds everything transformed.

The days of the New Deal and buoyant confidence inspired by the No. 1 New Dealer seem infinitely far off.

Helping to work the transformation are the multiplicity of lobbies that flourish here today.

They work in a carnival atmosphere of rivalry that does not preclude mutual back-scratching and log-rolling.

Let's have a system of Pulitzer prizes for lobbying. It would go over big in this town where showy public occasions are a favorite pastime. At a large public dinner—perhaps the president could be persuaded to attend.—The awards would be made, with still and news-reel cameras recording the event for the world.

The judges offer something of a problem. It would be well to choose two or three members of Congress and maybe a retired lobbyist thoroughly versed in the art.

HARD TO PICK WINNER

Certainly the judges would have a hard time picking the winner this year. There are so many contestants and each one can present such an excellent claim.

The temptation would be strong to give the chief award to a spectacular mass operation. At the top of the list is the drive to put over the tideland oil grab.

That is organization plus. It is spearheaded by attorney generals and governors of a number of states. But behind this front is the real driving force—the oil companies that stand to profit from the unlimited exploitation that has pushed our other oil resources to the edge of exhaustion.

The fact that this seems to be our last great reserve of oil is something that is rarely spoken of, even though we hear talk on every hand of the need to protect America's access to strategic oil. The judges of the lobby contest, it is hardly necessary to add, would ignore any such incidental consequences of this steamroller lobby.

There would be one serious objection to awarding the prize to the massive, organized power of the tideland lobby. That might tend to discount individual initiative—the energies of the "little fellow" working alone in his little office with only a clerk and a stenographer. He can achieve, too.

LAUNDRY LOBBY ACTIVE

Take the laundry lobby as an example. Persistently and tirelessly this lobby has worked to modify the minimum wage act. The goal is to obtain from Congress certain re-definitions under which as many as a million laundry, dry-cleaning and other service employees might be cut out of the provisions of the wage law.

In this instance the fruits of victory are still to be won. But honest effort and faithful toil should not be overlooked.

An embarrassment of riches would be the real problem in making the final selection. One quiet, unostentatious lobby should not, however, be overlooked. This is the China lobby.

The effective operators here are ex-New Dealers who rarely show themselves in public. Until recently they represented China's powerful financial oligarchs. These oligarchs, including several members of the Soong family, are said to have at least a half billion dollars in deposits in United States banks.

The same lobby law firm represents Maj. Gen. Claire Chennault, whose airline in China came originally out of UNRRA funds. Chennault, with his background of heroic endeavor for China, has been one of the most effective talkers for China and the half-billion-dollar aid fund now approved. The other day Nathaniel Pfeffer, professor of international relations at Columbia university, said that money would be completely wasted.

The same lobby represented the Chinese oligarchs when a wartime loan of a half billion was negotiated. American officials who finally approved it now say they knew the loan would do little good for China.

That should be the No. 1 rule of this lobby contest—don't look too closely at cause and effect. Just get a plaque engraved or a handsome loving cup, and present it at one of those big dinners Washington loves so well. It would be a little obvious to give a monetary award. And that would be superfluous, since these men get generous material rewards for their toil.

showed me in my younger days, thought Professor Malzius.—Benet.

Q. Will you please give the correct way of addressing a letter to President Harry Truman?—J. L. R.

A. This is the correct form:

The President
The White House
Washington, D. C.
Mr. President (or: Sir)

Q. Is this heading correct?
Mr. George Brown, Manager
Blank Book Company
Chicago, Illinois

A. No. It is incorrect to use two titles (Mr. Manager) in the same line. Correct:
Mr. George Brown,
Manager, Blank Book Company
Chicago, Illinois.

Also avoid: Dr. J. W. Smith, M. D.; Rev. Charles Jones, D. D.; Mr. James Hoyt, Esquire. Use either the first or the second title, never both.

Are you having trouble using that, which and who correctly? C-8, a leaflet written by Mr. Colby, has helped others. To obtain a copy, send 5 cents in coin and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to him, in care of Escanaba Daily Press, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

They Always Do It Once Too Often

Good Evening

By Clint Dunathan

REISS BROTHERS — Capt. Melville A. Baizaire, first officer of the Reiss Brothers, 606-foot flagship of the Reiss steamship line, greeted us cordially. He is a man of much marine experience, has been in charge of several Reiss ships, and on the Reiss Brothers for the past six years.

"Come in, come in," said Capt. Baizaire. "We very seldom have visitors this early in the season."

It was the first trip into Escanaba for the Reiss Brothers this year. O. V. "Ollie" Thatcher, Escanaba business man, encouraged us to accompany him on a visit to the docks for a look at the Reiss Brothers flagship. We asked for Capt. Baizaire and the chief engineer directed us forward—600 feet forward.

A BLOCK LONG—You never realize how long a Great Lakes carrier is until you walk from one end of it to the other. The Reiss Brothers is 606 feet long, and two other boats of the line exceed that, one by 12 feet, another by 15. They are among the longest on the Lakes.

The distance from aft to forward (the way we were walking to reach the captain's quarters) is more than a city block. It's the same distance the other way, of course. The Reiss Brothers lay out the towering shadow of the C. & N. W. ore dock, and hatch covers on the big bow were pushed back to receive the cargo. By nightfall 13,000 tons of ore would be spilled into her capacious belly.

"Docked at 9:45," said Capt. Baizaire. "We were a few minutes late because the ice had packed down into the channel. The Woodbine came out and assisted us. It was a help, but there really wasn't much trouble."

The Reiss Brothers was due at 9:30. The ice in Little Bay de Noc had delayed her by 15 minutes.

ONE OF FEW—The flagship Reiss Brothers is unique. Not because she has radio telephone, radar, automatic electric steering, loudspeaker communication, and a whistle that is powered by electricity and sounded with a lever. But because it has the finest guest passenger accommodations of any ship on the Great Lakes.

Capt. Baizaire invited us to inspect the guest quarters, located on the main deck, and on the second deck where the captain's quarters are also placed. You might compare it with a three-story house: First floor, for guests; second floor, captain's quarters and lounge for guests; and the captain; third floor, the pilot house.

Staterooms for guest passengers are large. There are bath-rooms, a small galley, and a dining room on the first floor. Right now the rugs are out being cleaned and the chairs are lashed to the dining table to keep them from being tossed around in the event the boat hits some rough going before the summer calms.

The lounge on the second floor has comfortable chairs, a table where guests can while away the hours with a few rounds of bridge, and a completely equipped bar for those who, unlike the officers and crew, are permitted to imbibe on shipboard. Altogether the quarters for guests leave you with an impression of sea-going comfort unexpected aboard a freighter.

There were no images on the screen recognizable as docks or shore. They showed only as lights. But they were definitely located in relationship to the boat; and as obstructions, collision could have been avoided through the use of radar.

MECHANICAL MAN—Besides radar's "magic eye" that can see for many miles through the thickest fog or snow and the blackest night, the Reiss Brothers is equipped with an "automatic wheelsman." Just how this operates we can't explain, but Capt. Baizaire said the ship could be set on its course, a switch thrown, and the ship was steered by mechanical equipment.

A few minutes later we said goodbye to Capt. Baizaire and took our leave of the Reiss Brothers, flagship of a famous fleet. The impression that remained with us longest was the spacious comfort of the guest quarters, and the skipper's enthusiasm in describing his radar equipment.

THE PILOT HOUSE—It is a matter of a dozen steps up a stairway from Captain Baizaire's office to the pilot house, a horse-shoe-shaped room whose walls are mostly windows. Here is the nerve-center of the ship: From it radiates communication lines to the engine room, and by radio telephone to other ships and to shore.

Capt. Baizaire demonstrated the ship's new radar equipment for us. It was installed a couple of weeks ago and the captain is pleased. We will not try to technically describe radar, but we can tell what we saw. On a yellowish-opaque glass mounted at a slant in the top of a chest-high metal case, a spot of light appeared in the center of a large circle on the viewing screen. That point indicated the ship. A sweep of pinpoint lights showed on the screen, revolving around the ship like the hand of a large clock. As the "hand" swept around it revealed the shore and the docks in brighter flashes of light.

There were no images on the screen recognizable as docks or shore. They showed only as lights. But they were definitely located in relationship to the boat; and as obstructions, collision could have been avoided through the use of radar.

MECHANICAL MAN—Besides radar's "magic eye" that can see for many miles through the thickest fog or snow and the blackest night, the Reiss Brothers is equipped with an "automatic wheelsman." Just how this operates we can't explain, but Capt. Baizaire said the ship could be set on its course, a switch thrown, and the ship was steered by mechanical equipment.

A few minutes later we said goodbye to Capt. Baizaire and took our leave of the Reiss Brothers, flagship of a famous fleet. The impression that remained with us longest was the spacious comfort of the guest quarters, and the skipper's enthusiasm in describing his radar equipment.

Roving Reporter

By Hal Boyle

New York (AP)—Ever get tired of hearing friend wife say accusingly:

"I spent the whole afternoon in the beauty shop and you didn't even notice the difference?"

Sure you have. What did you do about it? Nothing, of course. Ever have the same incomprehensible creature say you as you started off to work:

"Why do you keep trying to give your boss the impression you are the bottom sack in the laundry truck?"

Of course you have. What did you do about it? Again nothing. Listen to the tale of a man who did try:

One day this week as I lunged toward the door after breakfast to catch the 8:21 1/4 a. m. bus, I mumbled at Frances:

"How I look, honey? Okay?"

"Sure, just like Bushman—as usual," she said.

"Who's Bushman?" I asked as I sprinted out the door.

"That Chicago fashion plate you try to imitate," she said.

It was only after I got on the bus that I remembered who Bushman is. He's the famous gorilla at the Lincoln Park zoo. That made me mad. So I thought I would show her. I figured I could outlook any ape.

I got off the bus at the Grand Central Palace where some 70,000 beauty parlor operators are staging the International Beauty Show. I stomped into a men's salon and found Saul Meih, a makeup artist and hair stylist.

"Give me the whole menu," I said, "from soup to nuts."

"That means," he said, "a haircut, manicure, shampoo, shave, mud pack, tonic, sunlamp treatment, shoe shine and a cold cream manicure."

"That slowed me up."

"I don't know about that mud-pack and permanent wave business," I hesitated.

"Don't be foolish," he said. "The mud-pack will take the office soot and grime from your skin and leave it glowing like a baby. Your hair is getting thin on top. The wave will make it look like you got twice as much hair."

"(What did you do in the war, Saul?"

"I was in the infantry," he said. I felt better.

"Okay, doughfoot, plow ahead."

Well, I didn't mind it so much except when a lady came by and watched Saul put on the curlers for the wave and said, "My, I could never get my husband to do that." Another lady walked past and yoo-hoed, "Oh, you great big beautiful doll."

"Don't pay any attention to her," said Saul firmly. "She's probably just a frustrated female 4-E."

Three hours after I climbed into the chair I stepped forth a new and changed man. That's what Saul insisted.

"You've got the new masculine look all right," he assured me.

That evening I went home all set to surprise Frances with my new ultra-male glamor.

"Still think I look like your pal Bushman?" I asked, giving her a full view of my mudpack-softened profile.

She looked me over critically. "No," she said. "Bushman doesn't wear a suit that needs pressing like you do."

How can you win?

The moral: You might as well tell your wife you spent the afternoon in a beauty shop, too. She can't tell the difference either.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington.—One reason for unification of the Army and Navy was to eliminate bitter jealousy between the two services, including the rival lobbies which each maintained on Capitol Hill. For years the admirals and the generals had their representatives scrambling around Congress trying to woo votes and sniping at each other in the scramble for appropriations.

It was hoped that unification would end this tug-of-war.

However, this column has now obtained a secret memo circulated by the Navy which indicates that Army-Navy warfare has not stopped. If anything, it's more intensive and bitter.

The Navy's amazing memo is behind the current battle over increasing the Air Forces to 70 groups. It frankly admits that if the admirals stick to their old theory that the Navy's function is to control the seas, it will soon be obsolete.

Secretary of Defense Forrestal, himself a Navy man, and who still features ship's clocks and portholes as accoutrements of his office, has sided with the Navy and is opposed to the 70 air groups urged by Air Secretary Symington.

The dispute now boils down to the question of which arm of the service is best equipped to deliver the atomic bomb against the enemy. Argument in favor of the airplane carrier as the best atom deliverer is put forward in the Navy's memo extensively circulated on Capitol Hill. Omitting the military secrets, pertinent portions of this amazing document follow:

"NAVY HAS BEEN ON DEFENSIVE"

"Memorandum for the deputy chief of naval operations, air."

"Subject: Comment on final report 'War department policies and programs review board.'"

"Subject report circulated within the Navy contains certain recommendations of far-reaching importance to the Navy. This report obviously represents the top-level thinking of the Army and Air Forces on the concept of future war."

"It appears that this report contemplates only a minor role in future wars for the Navy, and particularly for naval aviation. Concept of war envisaged in this document is that of a strategic bombing attack on the enemy conducted by the Air Force from overseas bases."

"Publication of this report affords the Navy an excellent opportunity to present its case as being the branch of the national defense destined to deliver the atomic bomb. Ever since the end of the war, the Navy has been on the defensive and has been answering arguments of those who say that navies are obsolete and useless. We have been protecting ourselves against attempts to abolish the Navy—the original merger proposal."

"For the past two years our defense of the Navy has been based mainly on old familiar arguments about exercising control of the seas. Much has been said about anti-submarine warfare, naval reconnaissance, protection of shipping, and amphibious operations. It has been assumed, at least implicitly, that the next war will not be much different from the last one. This assumption is basically wrong, and if we stick to it the Navy will soon be obsolete."

"The next war will be a lot different from any previous one. It seems obvious that the next time our Sunday punch will be an atomic bomb aimed at the enemy capitals or industrial centers and that the outcome of the war will be determined by strategic bombing. The war will be won by whichever side is able to deliver the atomic bomb to the enemy, and at the same time protect its own territory against similar delivery. I think 'the time is right now for the Navy to start an aggressive campaign aimed at proving that the Navy can deliver the atomic bomb more effectively than the Air Forces can.'"

"THE NAVY'S DELIVERY"

"If the Navy makes delivery of the atomic bomb its major mission, and if we develop the proper ships, planes and tactics, the Navy can become the principal offensive branch of the national defense system—the branch which actually delivers the knockout blow. Transoceanic bombing by planes which come back home is not yet practicable, and I believe that for as far ahead as we can see into the future, the Navy can be in a better position to deliver the bomb than the Air Forces can. That should be the Navy's platform."

"To land our Sunday punch, it is just as important to have a dependable means of delivery as it is to have the bomb itself."

Coniferous Trees In U. P. Damaged By 'Winter Kill'

Thousands of coniferous trees in the Upper Peninsula have been damaged this spring by "sun scald" or "winter kill" attributed to the quick change from short daytime warmth to night cold during the early February thaw and subsequent extreme cold weather.

U. S. Forest Service officials in Escanaba said that the damage is undoubtedly worse than in previous springs because of the unseasonal thaw followed by sub-freezing temperatures.

It is believed that hemlock and white pine are the most severely hit. Norway pine, balsam, spruce and white cedar also were damaged to some extent.

"Solid stands of timber are not affected to any great extent," Paul Wohlen, of Escanaba, supervisor of the Upper Michigan National forest, said. "The sun just hits the tree tops in a solid stand. The damage occurred on the south and southeast borders, along the fringes and alongside roads where the trees are exposed to the sun."

Short daytime periods of solar warmth followed by exceptionally cold nights causes the damage, it was pointed out. Trees affected have turned red on their sunny sides.

Werner J. Vietzke, of Rapid River, who has made a detailed study of trees also points out that "trees can also suffer when they are severely flexed by rough winds while frozen hard."

"Damage to deciduous trees is hard to estimate but will be obvious when leafing time arrives. Apple orchards have been known to suffer ruin from 'sun scald.' While no fungus or virus is involved directly, fungus will be able to attack a tree damaged by 'sun scald,' Vietzke said. "However, over half the trees affected will recover."

The damage is said to be general throughout the Upper peninsula. Farmers and woodlot owners are advised to check their timber for "winter kill" or "sun scald" and salvage those most severely hit.

VFW PLANS FOR DISTRICT RALLY

Omer Ketchum, National Officer, To Attend

The spring rally of the Veterans of Foreign Wars 10th district will be held in Escanaba on April 17 and 18, and representatives from most Upper Peninsula communities are expected to attend.

At the coming district rally the Upper Peninsula, now District 10, will be divided into two districts, the 14th and 15th.

The new 14th district will include Delta, Menominee, Marquette, Alger, Schoolcraft, Luce, Mackinac and Chippewa counties. District No. 15 will comprise the counties of Dickinson, Iron, Gogebic, Ontonagon, Baraga, Houghton and Keweenaw.

Department Commander Merle Hopper of Charlotte, Mich., will attend to hold elections of officers for the two new districts.

For the first time in the history of Hiawatha Post, Escanaba, a national VFW officer will attend a conference here. He is Omer Ketchum, national legislative officer, of Washington, D. C., who will speak at the banquet meeting.

John T. Willis of Sault Ste. Marie will be present with a complete staff of district officers.

Representing the VFW Auxiliary will be Mary King Cloon of Ironwood, past department president; Viola Silvers, department president; Matilda Garvey, district president; and Pearl White, district senior vice president.

Murray Re-elected Marinette Mayor

Marinette, Wis.—Richard P. (Jab) Murray, who previously served seven terms as mayor of Marinette, was voted back into office Tuesday in a five-cornered race that actually centered around three men.

Murray polled 1,940 votes while former Mayor Arnold H. Schmitt received 1,424 and the incumbent Orin W. Angwall, 1,230. Charles H. Anderson, former assessor, received only 133 votes and George J. Fenissy ran true to form with 47 votes.

AGED JURIST DIES

Madison, Wisconsin (AP)—Justice Chester A. Fowler of the Wisconsin Supreme Court died Thursday. The 85-year-old jurist, a member of the court since 1929, had been in ill health for three months. However, he continued to sit until March 29.

3 U. P. CITIES ON AIR ROUTE

Wisconsin Central To Start Service

Marquette, Escanaba and Ironwood will not be included in the northern Wisconsin-Upper Michigan airline service to be started by Wisconsin Central Airlines late in June or early July.

WCA, which was authorized more than a year ago to include the Upper Peninsula in its four-state service will schedule daily runs to Marinette-Menominee, Iron Mountain and Houghton-Hancock. The three other cities will be added to its route as soon as airports meet minimum Civil Aeronautics requirements.

It is expected that two, 4,500-foot runways at Marquette county's new K. I. Sawyer airport at Sands will be completed late this year and be ready for commercial air transportation at that time.

Wisconsin Central expects to operate two round trips a day over its routes beginning in May. Present stops are made at Madison, Milwaukee, Racine, Kenosha, Oshkosh, Clintonville, Wausau, Stevens Point, Eau Claire and Rhinelander, Wis.; Minneapolis, Duluth, St. Cloud and Hibbing-Chisholm, Minn., and Chicago, Ill. Besides the Upper Peninsula cities, the new service in July will include stops at Green Bay and Sturgeon Bay.

The starting date of the new route will depend upon completion of the Green Bay airport.

The company will buy two additional twin-engine Lockheed Electras to start the service. The line now has five planes, four of which are in service. The fifth is being converted in the company's shops at Clintonville, Wis.

Announcement also has been received here that Nationwide Airlines has purchased a new Douglas DC-3 to be placed into operation on its Detroit-Upper Michigan route. It is anticipated that daily flights by Nationwide to Escanaba, Houghton-Hancock,

Retiring Chief
Ranger Honored
By WCOF Court

A dinner party honoring Mrs. Arthur Barron, retiring Chief Ranger of St. Ann's Court, Woman's Catholic Order of Foresters, who has headed the organization for the past seven years, was held last evening at the Barron home, 520 South 14th street, with 33 members of the Court attending.

At the close of the attractively appointed dinner, Mrs. Barron was presented with a beautiful gift, in appreciation of her services.

A short business meeting of the Court was held and the recently elected officers installed. They are: Chief Ranger, Mrs. Thomas Tounis; Vice Chief Ranger, Mrs. Roger Baker; secretary, Mrs. A. D. Laviolette; financial secretary, Mrs. Arthur Barron; treasurer, Mrs. Joseph DeGrand; trustees, Mrs. Fred Fillion, Mrs. Leo Prevost and Mrs. Orelle Beauchamp; senior conductor, Mrs. Frank Trudell; junior conductor, Mrs. Arthur Guzzonato; sentinels, Mrs. Helena Fillion and Mrs. Eugene Auger.

Cards were played following the meeting, the high score awards going to Mrs. Orelle Beauchamp, first, and Mrs. Joseph DeGrand, second.

One-Day Diet New Reducing Angle

New York, N. Y.—Most overweight people have trouble with reducing diets because they haven't the will-power to stay on them for any length of time.

To solve that problem, a new approach to reducing is suggested by the April Journal of Living.

The advice is direct and to the point. Stop thinking of long-range diets—try a day-by-day reducing plan instead!

All you have to do is make a firm vow that you will eat your reducing menus for one day only—today! The psychological effect of knowing that your diet will last only 24 hours is a terrific morale builder. At the end of the day, the chances are that you'll tell yourself the diet wasn't bad at all.

With 24 hours of success behind you, you'll have more confidence concerning the next day. And when tomorrow dawns, repeat the vow for the day you're going to eat to reduce for one day only.

For anyone whose will-power needs bolstering, says the Journal of Living, that's far enough to look ahead.

If you keep dwelling on how much weight you need to take off, and how long it will take you to do so, you're apt to get discouraged and never begin. But making reducing a day-by-day project not only develops new eating habits but also helps build your will-power!

Social Situations

SITUATION: You have to call someone at the last minute to fill in at a bridge party.

WRONG WAY: Give the impression the party was a last-minute affair, even though it was actually planned ahead.

RIGHT WAY: Frankly say that you are asking the friend to do you a favor and fill in at the last minute.

SITUATION: You receive a gift through the mail.

WRONG WAY: Wait for several weeks to write your thank-you letter.

RIGHT WAY: Write your thank-you letter immediately. That is the surest way of making the sender feel that you really appreciate the gift. The sooner a thank-you note is written the more effective it is.

DELICIOUS LEMON SAUCE

A delicious lemon sauce is made by combining two tablespoons of cornstarch with one-half cup of water, one-half cup of sugar and one-half cup of lemon juice. Blend in a bowl and cook over a low flame until it starts to boil. It should be boiled for five minutes and then a few grains of salt, the juice of one lemon and a tablespoon of butter or margarine should be added.

LEAVING ST. JOSEPH'S CHURCH following their marriage Saturday morning are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Edward Schaller. The bride is the former Margaret Estelle Flanders, daughter of Mrs. G. Z. Flanders of this city, and her husband is a son of the senior Charles Edward Schaller of Neenah, Wis. The couple will live in Milwaukee where Mr. Schaller is attending Marquette university law school. (Richard Juetten Photo)

Give Old Perfume
Needed Vacation

BY ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

Get out of your perfume rut, if you've been wearing the same fragrance for, lo, these many years.

Perhaps that old perfume favorite is a superb choice. Perhaps it shouldn't be permanently retired; only given a vacation.

You can benefit from the vacation. Your own olfactory sense as well as that of your friends becomes desensitized to a perfume whiffed day in, day out. That's one reason why a change of scents is a good idea for both you and your friends.

Another reason is that a tendency to cling to old favorites—that goes for clothes, for a hair-do and for a make-up as well as for a perfume—is an age symptom which any woman should fight off.

Moreover, getting out of your perfume rut gives you an opportunity to go adventuring into a world of fascinating fragrances.

While you are there, you are apt to discover a perfume which now seems better suited to your personality than the fragrance you adopted years ago. Even if you don't you'll get more of a lift from your old perfume when its vacation is over. So will your family and friends.

Mrs. Wallace Watt
Is Chairman For Michigan Census

Mrs. Wallace Watt of Escanaba has been named chairman of the Michigan committee for the taking of a pilot census of all Michigan social workers, by the American Association of Social Welfare Workers.

The census will be conducted in other states when reports on the Michigan census are available. The work is categorized in two parts: first, initial enumeration of all social workers, and second, listing of qualifications and working conditions for social workers.

The census is aimed at providing the American association with detailed information on all social workers to aid them in furnishing a better grade of social work, help gauge training of social workers and to provide some indications of what standards would need to be established in the event of national legislation requiring licensing and registration of all social workers.

A committee of 11 Michigan women has been appointed to assist Mrs. Watt. A group of 100 Upper Michigan women have been

PRES. TRUMAN IS CRITICIZED

Bob Ruark Tempted To Call Him A Jerk

BY ROBERT C. RUARK
New York—A taxpayer occupies a unique position in a democracy: It is, without getting shot, the inalienable right to call his president a jerk.
I don't aim to call Harry by that harsh name, even though it is in the dictionary now, and might be construed to apply to a man who turns his hat up in front, grins when there is nothing to grin at, and who isn't very good at his job. But when he made that speech on the tax bill, I was powerful tempted. Although I never made a cheap gag about Harry before, even about the piano, all the cheap gags kept rushing back to my head.
For a long time I was sympathetic to the little man's troubles, because he took over another man's big, nasty job, and he wasn't quite geared for the hill. But he wants to keep on doing the same job, after November, and in my book he's a shortstop who can't go to the right. Or left. Or hit. Or throw.

That Tax Speech
It was the tax-bill veto speech that raised my temperature. You can't give the folks any more dough to spend, he says—and he is talking to Tom, the taxpaying rover when he says it—because if you do, they will bid up prices and spiral the inflation. Yes indeed. Keep their grubby little hands off any extra dough, because they aren't competent to spend it. Tax the children for their own good, to keep them out of the ice-cream parlors. Papa knows best.

If I were Harry, and I had me a veto speech to make on a tax cut, I could think up a hundred good reasons. I would say we were rich, and could afford to carry the load. I would say we are in for a period of heavy spending, on military re-inforcement, that call for extra tax dough. I would say we got a lot of hungry furriers to feed, for a cold, necessary purpose—such as keeping the wrong folks from feeding them. But that song about inflation will get you if you do it. That's the straw that sways the camel. You can blind a gnat with the money the individual will get out of the tax cut, in a country that kicks billions around to every hopeful sponger. Anybody old enough to read a newspaper knows that inflation is constructed from shortage, not plenty, and that prosperity never bruises nobody, if the supply was running head and head with demand. I can cite you Bernard Baruch on that.

Has Nice Bow Ties
The complete insolence of the little man to stand up, and tell a nation that the people must be taxed to a wartime limit, for their own good. That, to me, is a complete admission that a bureaucratic foot on the national neck is the only answer. It is the flat refusal to allow a man to apply for a two-buck raise because the extra money wouldn't be good for him. Might lead him into temptation.

Inflation? What is this thing we are wearing around the neck now, a depression? Has Harry been to the store lately, to check on the current price of rump roast? I could do with an extra buck or so, personally, and I do not dine exclusively off hummingbird tongues.
I will take Harry if he shows any talent in any direction. But up to now you cannot credit him with much acumen as administrator, speaker, politician, or thinker. He grins pretty good, and looks cute in bow ties, but so does Maurice Chevalier. At these prices I don't want a comedian.

First U. S. presidential convention to admit women delegates was that held by the Progressive Party at Chicago in 1912.

C&H PLANNING EXPLORATION

Copper Rock May Be Tested At Rockland

Calumet, Mich.—The recent suspension of diamond drilling in the Calumet-Keweenaw district is only temporary and does not mean an abandonment of explorations in this district. Calumet and Hecla is constantly engaged in an exploration program of which diamond drilling is one of several investigating projects.
At present two outside projects assume a greater importance than that part of the local exploration taken by diamond drilling. The Wisconsin zinc and lead district churning indicates that C. & H. may have one or more important ore bodies, and it is imperative to continue drilling and perhaps to spend a large sum to build a plant and mill.

In Tonopah, Nevada, while the chances for discovery are less than in Wisconsin, the target is such that an extension or repetition of the camp which produced over 150 million in silver and gold might be found. From the geologist's viewpoint it is likewise imperative that a modest drilling program be continued there.

Locally the underground phases of the exploration of the deposits already found by drilling in the Ironquios Amydaloid and the Houghton Conglomerate, must continue. Fortunately conditions have been and continue to be such that the copper recovered will approximately pay for the explorations.

An exploratory project, which is hoped can be undertaken in the spring, is the testing of copper rock from C. & H. properties near Rockland, by float and sink methods. It is possible that a concentrate can be made without too much loss in the tailings to enable some of the lodes in that area to be mined without having to build a local mill, or to ship low grade ore the 60 miles to the Lake Linden mills.

CAPT. WALKER WAS BRANDED

Monument Erected For
"Slave Stealer"

Ann Arbor—Capt. Jonathan Walker, said to be the only person a U. S. Federal Court ever ordered branded, is remembered by a monument at Muskegon.

Standing near the entrance to Evergreen Cemetery, the memorial bears a replica of Capt. Walker's right hand with the initials SS for "slave stealer" branded on the palm.

The sea captain had been arrested in 1844 off the coast of Key West, Florida, while transporting seven runaway slaves to the Bahama Islands and freedom, according to information in the Michigan Historical Collections at the University of Michigan.

His arrest climaxed a colorful sailing career begun at 17. Among the high points of his life were the time he was marooned on an Indian Ocean island and later when he sailed the dangerous Gulf Coast for nine years, transporting escaping slaves to freedom in Mexico.

As he already bore a price on his head for numerous anti-slavery deeds, the sentence of the court was strict. He was heavily fined, sentenced to a year's solitary confinement and ordered branded so that he might forever be marked as a slave stealer.

After he served his sentence, he came north where he lectured for freedom of the slaves and woman suffrage. In 1846, John Greenleaf Whittier immortalized him in his poem "The Branded Hand."

After the Civil War and freedom of the slaves, Capt. Walker went to Lake Harbor, near Muskegon, where he died April 30, 1878.

On August 1 of that year the memorial was dedicated. The Muskegon Chronicle reported several thousand persons from throughout Michigan and surrounding states were present at the ceremony as a final tribute to the man who had devoted so much of his life to helping slaves.

violations reported and discussed by the street, bus and playground patrols. A story, "Green Light, Go; Red Light Whoa" from the "Junior" magazine was read by Nancy Grenfell and a poem, "Crossing the Street" was read by Betty Frey. At the next meeting the boys and girls from Mrs. Barber's and Mrs. Christopherson's rooms will present the program. The third and fourth grade glee club plan to sing four songs, "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot," "Shortnin' Bread," "Swinging on a Star," and "April Showers."

Bark River Lions To Stage Minstrel Show, April 17-18

The second annual April minstrel show of the Bark River Lions Club will be presented April 17 and 18 in the Bark River town hall at 8 p. m.

Father Francis Ginski of Peroville is directing the show. Cast members are B. Simmons, Arnold Dalmgren, Leo Knauf, Ray Raymond, Warren Scarr and Leslie Sundquist, end men; Leslie Good, Lawrence Trefert, Roy Bergman, Guy Fish, Hubert Gasman, Elmer Turquist, Leo Brullette and Phillip Bruce, in the circle, and Stanley McGinnis as interlocutor and Miss Maurine Krause, accompanist.

Ben Douglas is financial director of the project; Fred Derocher publicity director.

Last year the Bark River Lions successfully presented a minstrel show in Bark River twice, in Stephenson, in Powers and at Pinecrest sanatorium. The entire proceeds, over $350, was donated to the Bark River-Harris high school for band instruments.

The minstrel this year will be presented twice in Bark River and once in Pinecrest Sanatorium in Powers. Saturday afternoon there will be a matinee performance at 3:30 in the town hall, for children.

Proceeds from this year's minstrel will further one or more of several projects of the Lions club.

MAP SUMMER ACTIVITIES

Timber Trail And Day Camp Plans Made

At a regular meeting of the Girl Scout Council held in the Home Economics room of the High school on Tuesday, plans were discussed for the promotion of Camp Timber Trail for our Girl Scouts and Day Camp for Brownies this summer.

Mrs. Gordon Hughes, Camp chairman, reported on the Timber Trail association meeting that she and Mrs. Russell Watson attended in Ishpeming. This meeting was devoted chiefly to deciding upon necessary improvements and repairs to the camp.

It was reported that $101.64 was the profit from the recent sale of Girl Scout cookies. The money was returned to the troops and will be used in most cases for camper-skips.

Mrs. Robert Schmeling, leaders representative on the council, stated that at a meeting of the Leaders Association held at the home of Mrs. Gordon Hughes on Monday evening, plans were made for the leaders to spend a day at Camp Timber Trail this spring so that they might be better able to interest their troop members in the camp.

Mrs. Schmeling also reported that $35 was made at the rummage sale conducted by the leaders and that they planned to hold another in the near future. The proceeds from these sales will be used to purchase uniforms for the leaders.

Powers

Camera Club Meeting
Powers, Mich. — The Camera club will hold a regular meeting in the "Y" club, Friday evening. All interested persons are invited to attend. There will be an election of officers. Slides and a movie will be shown at this time.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Harris were business visitors in Chicago Monday.

Birthday Club Meets
Members of the birthday club met at the home of Mrs. Tim Loeffler, Friday. The occasion was a birthday anniversary of her mother, Mrs. Joseph Bruner.

After the 12:30 dinner, cards formed the afternoon's diversion, with awards for high score going to Mrs. John Cory Jr., second high, Mrs. Roy Peterson and low, Mrs. Gilbert Henderson, who was a guest at the party.

Mrs. Bruner was presented with a set of silverware.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Plunger of Hermansville announce the birth of a daughter, Monday, April 5, at the Passinault Maternity home in Spaulding.

Attend Meeting in Stephenson
George Grau, supervisor; Theodore Fazer, Julius Hansen, Lee Pictch, Robert Lawrence and Charles Cory attended a local government institute held in Stephenson, Monday April 5. Joseph Gucky, supt., of the Stephenson public school system, presided as chairman.

Adam Murry, son Ernest and Lester Lauscher returned Thursday from Richester, Minn., where the senior Mr. Murray had gone for medical treatment at the Mayo clinic. The trip was made by plane from Escanaba.

Auxiliary Meeting
The regular meeting of the American Legion auxiliary was held at the "Y" club, Tuesday evening, with Mrs. F. Wells, the hostess. In the card games that followed the routine business, high score was held by Mrs. Theodore Fazer and low, Mrs. Roy Peterson. Lunch was served at the close of play.

Mrs. Ray Peterson and Mrs. Tim Loeffler spent Wednesday in Menominee.

Gould City

Gould City, Mich. — Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Christie have returned from a visit at the home of Mrs. B. McPhail in Rexton.

Mmes R. A. Christie, Gould City, and J. Burns, W. Ackley, H. Moeselman, A. Mortenson and William Brain of Germfask attended the spring rally at St. Ignace Tuesday.

Ladies' Aid Meeting
The Ladies' Aid of Gould City held a meeting at the home of Mrs. R. A. Christie with 17 members present. Rev. and Mrs. Paul Sobel of Manistique and Albert Balla were visitors. After the meeting, lunch was served by the hostess. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. W. Engels with Mrs. Engels and Mrs. Jack Brawley, hostesses.

Mrs. Hargreaves Raises Pomeranians As Hobby

Mrs. Henry H. Hargreaves, Cullingworth Manor, Manistique, has pussed her fascinating and exacting hobby for many years. In 1929, Mrs. Hargreaves got her first two pedigreed Pomeranians from Mrs. A. T. McKaskill of Minneapolis. The male, King Julo, was from Julo and Dara stock and was a beautiful deep red-orange color. Bimbo of El Cuma, "Queen", was a lovely golden blonde, a perfect brood female. During her reign, Queen raised 36 puppies.

Mrs. Hargreaves started the Cloverland Kennels in Manistique several years later. She wanted to raise dogs for show and "Duke" out of Ch. Little Emir and Ch. Sealan Career was the answer.

Ch. Duke of Collingworth Manor led the parade of winners at the dog shows wherever he was entered.

One of the outstanding poms in Mrs. Hargreaves' kennel is "Lochryan Lovely" purchased and imported in 1936 from Mrs. Fred Thomson, St. Margarets-on-Thames, Twickenham, England. Lochryan Lovely is a beautiful pure orange Pomeranian and is now fourteen years old.

Some of the prizes in Mrs. Hargreaves trophy case are, seven silver loving cups, twenty-two first prizes, five best of breed, six best of winners, five Reserve winners, seven winners, five second prizes, three third prizes and two fourth prizes.

TEACHERS HELD SESSION HERE

Michigan University Men Gave Lectures

The establishment of teaching methods on a clearly defined basis and the working for appreciation of the finer things in life were the two main objectives stressed at the Schoolcraft County Teachers Institute held in the auditorium of Manistique High school Thursday morning and afternoon.

At the morning session, Dr. George E. Carrothers, director of the University of Michigan Bureau of Cooperation with Educational Institutions, gave an address in which he emphasized the general need for definite class standards. Assignments, he said, should be definite and clear, the teacher must be thoroughly prepared to present and treat each day's lesson. Goals for the students should be development of their bodies as well as their minds; they should be able to clearly express themselves, accuracy should be insisted upon, facts should be faced firmly, students should learn to find their own sources of information and above all, learn to live with others. He also discussed "Home and School Cooperation" in the afternoon.

R. D. Hollister, associate professor of speech at the University of Michigan, discussed "Speaking Habits" in the morning session and "The Enjoyment and Appreciation of Literature" in the afternoon. In his discussion of literature, Prof. Hollister deplored the present unscrupulous exploitation of filthy reading as "literature." He called for a reassertion of what is best in the printed word. There is need for the esthetic things, he said. "Man must not live by bread alone," he reiterated. The scent and beauty of flowers, the song of birds and other things that make life beautiful are not fundamentally essential, he said, but they are what make life worth living. Good literature fills a similar need. Incidentally, he added a good word for the practice of leisurely reading. He interspersed his talk with recital of excerpts from Shakespeare and other time honored classics, giving to them a very sympathetic and readily understandable interpretation.

At the beginning of the morning session Manistique high school band, under the direction of Joseph Giovannini, favored with a number of selections; and the afternoon session began with vocal selections by the Manistique High School Girls' Choir, under the direction of J. Earl Cousineau.

Schools were closed throughout the county to enable all teachers to attend. Mrs. Ada Watson, county commissioner of schools, presided at the sessions.

State Was Industrial Before Auto Arrived

Ann Arbor—Michigan was already established as an industrial state before the coming of the automobile industry, a report given at the meeting of the Michigan Academy of Science at the University of Michigan indicates. The state's own "industrial revolution" began in 1855, and today's industrial centers were well-defined by 1904 when the automobile industry began its growth.

First carpet factory in the United States was established at Philadelphia in 1791 by W. P. Sprague.

Between 1939 and 1947, the average weekly wage of American factory employees was doubled.

Cancer Campaign More Than Drive To Secure Funds

Collection of funds to support the drive now being conducted by the Schoolcraft County unit of the American Cancer society is far from the only matter seriously considered by the society at this time, the Rev. Paul Sobel, publicist for the effort asserts.

Cancer as it affects lives of people in our vicinity should be brought home to every individual in the area. In this connection Mr. Sobel asks:

Did you know—
That cancer took 15 lives in Schoolcraft county last year?
That one person in every 6.5 who died in Schoolcraft county last year died of cancer?

That cancer is no respecter of age, family or locality? Only cancer of the colon is known to be hereditary, but almost every family has history of cancer among its members.

That last year cancer took the lives of more children under 20 years of age than all the acute communicable diseases of early childhood put together? It took the lives of 75 high school and college age youth in Michigan.

That cancer can be cured by x-ray, radium or surgery when it is found and treated in its early stages?

That the best precaution for cancer is annual examinations and early treatment?

That the Schoolcraft county committee on cancer is interested in having every individual check for certain signs and symptoms which occur early in many cases of cancer. These include:

1. Any sore that does not heal—particularly about the tongue, mouth or lips.
2. A painless lump or thickening, especially in the breast, lip or tongue.
3. Irregular bleeding or discharge from any natural body opening.
4. Progressive change in color or size of a wart, mole or birthmark.
5. Persistent indigestion.
6. Persistent hoarseness, unexplained cough, or difficulty in swallowing.
7. Any persistent change in normal bowel habits.

Waives Examination In Justice Court

Michael Fackety, 22, waived examination when brought before Justice W. G. Stephens in justice court Thursday afternoon to face a charge of robbery unarmad, and was bound over to the coming term of Schoolcraft county circuit court. Bond of $1,000 was fixed and he was turned over to the custody of the sheriff, being for the time unable to furnish the required amount.

Fackety is charged with hitting Norton Score with his fists and robbing of his billfold containing money in excess of fifty dollars. The episode occurred in the early hours of March 30. Questioned by the police, Fackety is said to have admitted the charge.

In an effort to secure further light on the case, a number of young men who were at a dance at which both Fackety and Score were present were submitted to a polygraph test throughout Tuesday. The authorities declined to reveal the names of the men involved or the results. These taking the tests did so of their own volition.

The apparatus, state police department equipment, was flown from Lansing to Manistique by plane. The equipment was handled

Thriller Expected When Mike's Bar, Cloverland Clash Tonight For Escanaba Basketball Title

The city basketball tournament reaches a thrilling climax tonight at 9:30 o'clock with the Cloverland College playing Mike's Bar for the championship. City Drug will meet Harnischfeger in the semifinal consolation game at 7 and the winner plays the Liberty Clowns for consolation honors at 8.

Mike's Bar moved into the finals by an overwhelming victory over Harnischfeger, 62 to 31, and Cloverland College eliminated the Independents, 47 to 30.

Mike's Bar will start Jim Tobin and Irving Houle at forwards, Don Scott at center, and Bob Dufour and Clie Wier at guards. Bill Dufour suffered an eye injury in Wednesday night's encounter with the City Drugs, and it is doubtful whether he will see any action.

Cloverland College will be a definite threat to Mike's championship aspirations. They are bolstered by former Nahma Sawyer players. Manager Phil Cochran will start John Zimmerman and Charley Camps at forwards, Eddie Kulick, at center and Allen Mercer and Tom Tobin at guards.

The title contest between these two classy quintets promises to be a nip-and-tuck affair from start to finish.

Don Scott says the Mike's will continue their fast pace, and Phil Cochran counters with the claim that they'll knock the American league champions from their lofty perch by "about five or six points."

Connie Mack's A's Look Impressive This Spring

Chicago, April 9. (P)—If Connie Mack's Philadelphia Athletics step on a few American league toes this season, don't say Earl J. Hilligan didn't send out a warning.

Hilligan, the league publicity director, said the New York Yankees and Boston Red Sox look loaded and that pennant talk should not exclude the Detroit Tigers and Cleveland Indians.

"But the team that really impressed me," continued Hilligan, "was Connie Mack's club. The Athletics are hustling more than I have ever seen them, and they have something to go with it."

"Skeeter Webb, joining the Athletics from the Tigers, told me he was amazed at the new Philadelphia spirit. 'They're pepped up and primed,' said Skeeter."

The Yankees, Hilligan admitted, still are the champions and look the part. "You get an idea how tough they'll be," said Earl, "when you realize Bucky Harris has a hard time finding a spot for a great youngster like Bobby Brown."

The railbirds all suspect that Red Sox pitching will be the weak spot in Joe McCarthy's otherwise formidable Boston club.

Pitching on the other hand, will keep Detroit close to the top, Hilligan ventured. "Of five regular pitchers, Hal Newhouse looks the least ready right now," he said. "You know Newhouse will be tough eventually, so the Tigers will be plenty sharp on that hill."

Diz Trout, he added, appears headed for a great season. "He's staying up there in their heads this spring."

Louis Ready To Work Off Avoirdupois

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

New York, April 9 (P)—Joe Louis, enroute home from England, sends word that reports of his being overweight have been grossly exaggerated. "Joe insists he feels fine and weighs 'only' 222 pounds. . . he's due here Monday and will take off almost immediately for Michigan to start training. . . the football Dodgers, says one All America Conference biggie, can make it a four-way race for the eastern title next fall if they acquire a top-rank passer. . . venerable Jim Fitzsimmons, who is training 58 horses at Aqueduct, is especially proud of the colt named Buoyancy. . . the colt broke a leg bone last spring and Mr. Fitz kept him in a sling for three months until it healed. Then the Wheatley stable presented the horse to Fitzsimmons."

Due to the Olympic demands, the hop, step and jump event is on the Drake relays program this year for the first time since 1936. . . Walter Hagen, Jr., a pretty fair golfer and a former Richmond sportscaster, will air the Virginia Beach "Specialists" golf tourney next week. . . the Walker Cup season will begin making the rounds of the clubs of each member of last year's winning team, going on exhibit for a short time. . . although Smiley Quick turned pro, his club won't be slighted. . . promoter Louis Messina's featherweight boxing tournament in New Orleans gets under way tonight with Humberto Sierra fighting Baby Gonzales. . . champion Willie Pep has agreed to take on the winner in a non-title bout—which is hardly taking any risks.

Synchronized Swim Meet for Women

East Lansing, April 9 (P)—The annual Michigan AAU synchronized swimming championship will be conducted at the women's pool at Michigan State college Saturday.

Marilyn Stanley and Alice Mikus, representing the St. Clair recreation center in suburban Detroit, will defend their state synchronized duet swimming championship.

A field of teams from at least 10 colleges, public schools and clubs in the state will enter the competition. Mrs. Betty De Rosier of Detroit, chairman of the National AAU Synchronized Swimming committee, will serve as chairman of the judging committee for the event.

E&B Disappointed

Detroit, April 9 (P)—Detroit's E&B team, disappointed in its bid for the team leadership in the American Bowling Congress tournament last night, sought consolation in the minor events competition today. Performing before the largest crowd of the current pin carnival, the former national match game champions routed a mediocre 2768 last night to wind up 234 pins short of the mark set by the tournament leading Cavallo's of Cleveland.

Charley Fonville's Coach Owes Him 100 Malted Milks

BY JOHN F. MAYHEW

Ann Arbor, Mich., April 9 (P)—Big Charley Fonville, Michigan's shot putter extraordinaire, is expected to break the world's record this spring. And it appears he'll do the same for his coach, Ken Doherty.

For Doherty has egged the muscular giant on all season with bets of malted milks.

"Charley looks awful bad just before I bet on him on a practice put," says Doherty. "But he picks up amazingly after the bet is set."

"I must owe him about a hundred malted milks."

But the coach says it'll be worth it. He has faith that Fonville will, sooner or later, better the mark of 57 feet one inch that has stood as a world mark since Louisiana State's Jack Torrance tossed it in 1934.

Although Fonville lacks the weight of earlier top-notch putters, Doherty banks on his superb coordination to make up the difference. The Michigan star tips the scales at 195 compared with the 240 pounds Torrance carried.

He's already surpassed his own American record by whipping the 16-pound iron ball 56 feet 10 5/8 inches. And the relative ease with which he tops 56 feet gives credence to the belief he's the next world's champion.

Fonville is hard at work daily heaving the discs which he'll toss in Michigan's outdoor track competition beginning this month, and his forte, the shot.

With Doherty attempting to give the big Wolverine every possible competitive chance, Fonville has seven more opportunities to turn the big trick.

He is entered in the Kansas Relays April 17. He'll follow with the Penn Relays on the 27th. Michigan's outdoor track meets, the Western Conference meet and the NCAA tourney.

ESCANABA DAILY PRESS SPORTS

Off the cuff: Leo "The Lip" Durocher has written a book. . . The book is called, as you might expect, "Dem Bums" . . . Now Leo is not exactly the kind of a fellow who is always good for a laugh, but he is sometimes good for a solid sardonic chuckle. . . We got one when we read the title of his article in a current national weekly publication. . . Leo called his article, an adaptation from the above book, "Nice Guys Finish Last" . . . Which is okeh, but a lot of people thought Burt Shotton was a nice guy, and he brought the Dodgers along to a National league pennant and scared the pants off the New York Yankees in the World Series.

At any rate, if you're a baseball fan, you'll enjoy the article. . . You sort of get the idea while reading it that Durocher, while he might not slit your throat for a quarter, he would do it if it meant a run for Brooklyn.

Remember that hot quartet with the Marquette Knights of Columbus basketball team here last week, the team that won the Escanaba invitation? . . . Jack Refling, Bill Zagelmeyer, Sam Minard and Tom Kirby. . . In the Marquette meet, they scored 70 points among them in the K-C's 80-68 victory over L'Anse. . . To wit: Zagelmeyer, 22, Minard 21, Refling 14 and Kirby 13.

SAM Byrd, Detroit, former major league baseball player, had a dismal 45-39-84 in the opening round of the Masters golf tourney at Augusta, Ga. . . That's rough! . . . Old campaigner Horton Smith had troubles, too. . . He turned at 40 and came in with 38 for a 78. . . Ed Furgol, Pontiac, and Chick Harbert, Detroit, did better for Michigan representatives, shooting 70 and 71, respectively.

The Green Bay Packers, preparing for their 30th consecutive season, have never finished out of the first division in the National league. . . Add oddities: The Packers last season punted 65 times for 2,831 yards. . . Their opponents punted 65 times for 2,830.

Green Bay is signing up tackles right and left (no pun intended). . . The third new tackle in four days is Bob Cuz, star of Illinois' Rose Bowl victory in 1946. . . Others signed are Clyde Biggers of Catawba college in North Carolina and Don Richards of Arkansas.

Gene Berce, Marquette university's high scoring basketball forward and son of Louis Berce, C. and N. W. railway mail clerk, who works in and out of Escanaba, has been named in the 1948 all-midwest team by Collegiate magazine. . . He was picked on Notre Dame's all-opponent team, also.

Mrs. Ranguette reports that her son, Bob, is getting along fine at Michigan State. . . The Escanaba basketball star seems to like the Spartan setup very much. . . Perhaps more than anyone else, Jim Rouman, Ranguette's old coach, would like to see Bob make good at MSC. . . Jim says most of his stars during Escanaba basketball hey days were caught by the war and when they came back married and settled down. . . He wants to see one of them click in college and Bob may be the one.

Lyle LeCaptain, husband of Jeannette LeCaptain, Escanaba's figure skating and dancing instructor, is a baseball player of considerable experience currently trying out for a regular spot on the Escanaba Bear lineup. . . He plays third. . . He's also a boxing enthusiast and will be among those helping Jerome Deloria at the silver gloves show next week.

Asheville, N. C., April 9 (P)—The Brooklyn Dodgers had a chance to rest up today and they needed it—at least the squad which has been touring the south-west.

The "A" squad got into town about 5 a. m. yesterday after an all-night bus ride through the Smoky Mountains in a driving rain. The club left Tulsa, Okla., by plane but was forced to land at Knoxville, Tenn., and continue the trip by bus.

The Dodgers got to bed about 6:30 a. m. but managed to rouse themselves long enough to whip their Asheville farmhands, 7-2, in the afternoon. They play the Tri-State league club again this afternoon.

Cleaverwater, Fla., April 9 (P)—First Baseman Ferris Fain apparently is going to be able to go full speed for the Philadelphia Athletics despite his recent knee operation. Fain played his first full game yesterday since undergoing the knife and showed no effects of the operation. The A's lost to their city rivals, the Phillies, 4-3.

San Antonio, Tex., April 9 (P)—The Pittsburgh Pirates have decided to by pass Juarez, Mex., and Del Rio, Tex., on their spring swing next year. At Juarez, the ball park had to be cleared of bucks before the game. The Buys said Del Rio was too hot—109 degrees. So in 1949 the Pirates will swing from Texas to New Orleans.

San Antonio, Tex., April 9 (P)—The experiment of making a third baseman out of the veteran Shortstop Luke Appling is continuing to work out well for the Chicago White Sox.

Appling not only is holding down the hot corner in fine style but has been hitting well since the exhibition season started. The White Sox play the Pittsburgh Pirates tonight.

LLOYD MANGRUM LEADS MASTERS

Maestro Bobby Jones Turns In A 76

Augusta, Ga., April 9 (P)—Fifty-six other pros and amateurs contemplated the 69 shot by Lloyd Mangrum in the opening round of the 12th annual Master's golf tournament yesterday with some apprehension as they teed off for the second 18 holes of the 72-hole event today.

Mangrum, whose three-under-par score led the field by one stroke, came here as the leading money winner of the winter tour. A year ago Jimmy Demaret came here as the leading money winner, took the lead on the first round, and held it until the finish. Sixteen players were par or better for yesterday's play over the 6,000 yard layout.

Missing the select circle by one stroke was Defending Champion Jimmy Demaret, bracketed with six others at 73, playing with Bobby Jones. Demaret was out in 37 and back in par 36. Jones came in with a 76.

One stroke behind the sizzling Mangrum were Claude Harmon, Ed Furgol, Ben Hogan and Herman Keiser, the surprise winner two years ago, and in the 71 bracket were Skeet Riegel, National Amateur champion; Art Bell, Dick Metz, Chick Harbert, Jim Ferrier, Bobby Locke, the South African threat, and Byron Nelson, a two-time winner.

Henry Cotton of England, the second foreign threat, was one of the four matching par 72. His companions were Harry Todd, Bob Hamilton and Weland Gibson.

Weather and course conditions approached the ideal yesterday until late in the afternoon when a roistering wind, accompanied by ominous skies and driving rain squalls caught a few of the late starters. The chief sufferer was Bob Hamilton, who had gone out in a sparkling 33.

Hamilton was caught in the blinding downpour and finally staggered in with a par 72.

Hardwares, Foxes Open NWM Playoffs At Hermansville

The Escanaba Delta Hardwares will battle the Hermansville Silver Foxes in the first game of the Northern Wisconsin Michigan Basketball league championship series in Hermansville tomorrow night. The series is the best two-of-three. The game tomorrow night will start at 8:15.

With interest in basketball rapidly waning, it is hoped the second playoff contest will be played here next week. The Hardwares will be playing without their scoring ace, Bob Ranguette, who has matriculated at Michigan State to become eligible for basketball by next season.

The following players will meet at the Denver hotel at 7 Saturday evening to go to Hermansville: Roy Johnson, Ed Gauthier, Tom Dufour, Bob Anderson, Bob Dufour, Don Ohman, Don Scott, George Anderson, Don Lewis and Louis Kositzky.

The starting lineup will be Gauthier and Johnson, forwards; Tom Dufour, Bob Anderson, guards, and Ohman, center.

Youngsters Asked To Turn in Entries For Silver Gloves

Youngsters planning to participate in the annual Escanaba silver gloves tournament in the William Bonifas gym next Monday and Tuesday nights are asked to turn in their entries as soon as possible to Jerome Deloria at the youth center.

Deloria also asks that they report at the Bonifas gym at 6 Monday evening with boxing, gymnasium or swimming trunks and tennis shoes. The show will get underway promptly at 7:30.

The atmosphere of the earth weighs 5,633,000,000,000 tons.

That Old Bugaboo, Weak Hitting, Haunts Tigers

BY FRANK ECK

(P) Newsfeatures Sports Editor

Atlanta, Ga.—When the Detroit Tigers decide to plug a hole in their infield they do it in spades. Shortstop and first base were the weak spots on Manager Steve O'Neill's team last season and now he believes he has solved both problems.

Cornelius J. Berry, 26 of Kalamazoo, Mich., probably will be the new Tiger shortstop when the season opens. If not, Johnny Ligon, 25, of Detroit, will fill the spot held down by Eddie Lake, 31-year-old veteran who hit only .211 last season. At first base, replacing Roy Cullenbine, sold to the Phillies, will be George Vico, 23, a flashy fielder from San Fernando, Calif. He will be backed up by Paul Campbell, 30, who hit .304 for Louisville.

"Berry is ready," says Wish

Ted Williams May Have Appendectomy

Boston, April 9 (P)—New England's hopes for an American League pennant today rode toward Boston with Ted Williams, homebound bound from New Orleans in a train berth for a possible appendectomy.

The slugging Red Sox outfielder who missed eleven successive spring training exhibition games because of a back injury and was held out of a 12th because of a cold, is being accompanied north by Paul Schreiber, coach and batting practice pitcher.

They are due here Saturday afternoon and will be met by Dr. Ralph McCarthy, Red Sox physician, who will examine Ted to determine whether an operation is necessary.

After a conference with a New Orleans physician Red Sox officials decided to send "the kid" home on a train so that he could relax in bed.

Should the American League's triple batting king of 1947 (home runs, runs knocked in, highest average) miss the start of the season it would be the first time since 1941—except for the war years—when he suffered an injured ankle.

That year Ted pinch hit in the opener and then sat on the bench for ten games. However, he went on to bat .406 in 143 games.

Should an operation be necessary it is estimated that Williams and his potent bat would be lost to the strengthened Sox for three to six weeks. His loss would greatly weaken the Boston attack.

"Rented the first day" said Smith

Egan, chief Tiger scout. "He and Tom Stallcup of the Reds were the best shortstops in the International League last season and Ligon was the best shortstop in the Texas League." Berry hit .299 for Buffalo and is a product of Western Michigan College. Ligon batted .295 for Dallas and must stay. He's been optioned three times. In 1941 he hit 35 homers for Muskegon.

THUMBNAILED PREVIEW DETROIT TIGERS
Pitching—Tops
Catching—Fair
Infield—Improved
Outfield—Good
Hitting—Lacks Power
Finish—Third

Vico was in camp here last spring and impressed with his fielding. Tiger officials felt he was one year away from the big time and sent him to Portland in the Pacific Coast League where he batted .307.

He is three inches over six feet and fields like Bill Terry. Vico, of Yugoslav ancestry, can throw with either hand. He bats left handed but plays the bag right handed.

HITTING DID IT
Berry's superlative hitting in spring training, during which he compiled a .500 batting average in Detroit's first 26 exhibition games, has put him ahead of both Eddie Lake and Rookie Johnny Ligon in their three-way fight for the shortstop post.

Two infielders definitely set are George Kell at third base and Eddie Mayo on second. Kell's .320 mark was fifth best in the American League while Mayo had .278.

Veterans Hal Wagner and Bob Swift again will divide the catching.

Pitching is O'Neill's big weapon. For starters he had Hal Newhouse, Dizzy Trout, Virgil Trucks, Art Houtman and Fred Hutchinson. Stubby Overmire and Hal White go good against some clubs and can relieve the regular starters on occasion. Al Benton is back for relief duty.

O'Neill's Tigers have been second in the last two pennant races, 12 games behind each time. He fears the Yankees more than ever because of the addition of Ed Lopat, the ex-Cub southpaw, and thinks the Red Sox have been strengthened a great deal. "But we'll give both of them a battle," says Stout Steve. "We're going to be all right."

CMCE PHY. ED. CUT
Mt. Pleasant, Mich., April 9 (P)—Another cut in physical education requirements because of limited space and facilities was announced today at Central Michigan college. College officials said the reduction in classes had resulted from enlarged enrollment during the past two years.

N. F. LAUSCHER DIES OF BURNS

Brother Is Flying From Japan To Funeral

Norman Francis Lauscher, 22, Lake Shore Drive, who was critically burned in an alcohol explosion in the rear of Montgomery Ward's store, where he was employed, late Tuesday afternoon, died at 11:30 o'clock last night at St. Francis hospital.

He was born in Escanaba, March 9, 1926, and lived for a short time in Algoma, Wis., returning to Escanaba to make his home 16 years ago.

He entered service in the United States Navy in March, 1943, and received a medical discharge in February of 1944. He was a member of St. Patrick's parish of the American Legion.

Surviving are his wife, the former Jean Mischeau, one daughter, Dolores; his mother, Mrs. Gladys Lauscher, of Escanaba; and three brothers, Lloyd, at home; Milton, of Escanaba, and Robert, who is in Japan. A son, Norman Jr., died November 19, 1947, at the age of three months.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock at St. Patrick's church. Father Melan officiating, following the arrival here of the brother, Robert, who is coming by plane from Japan for the rites. Burial will be in Holy Cross cemetery. The body will be in state at the funeral home Monday at 2 p. m.

Repeal of Old Age Pension Trimming Beaten in Senate

Lansing, April 9 (AP)—Attempts to repeal a 1947 law which reduced old age assistance costs $2,000,000 a year were rejected in the Senate Thursday.

Senator Don Vander Werp (R-Fremont), temporary chairman in committee of the whole, ruled the attempt was not permitted under Governor Sigler's message to the legislature. The Senate upheld him by a 17 to 6 vote.

The 1947 law permitted the state to make claims against the estates of deceased old age assistance recipients. State welfare officials said that the relatives of 2,000 recipients had assumed the support of the elderly persons rather than risk losing their estates.

Its repeal was sought by Senator Harry F. Hittle (R-East Lansing) on the grounds it worked hardship on elderly people. Senator G. Elwood Bonnie (R-Van-Dusen), charged Hittle with trying to "sneak" the repeal through attached to another measure.

Joliet Publisher Critically Hurt in Mystery Slugging

Joliet, Ill., April 9 (AP)—Victim of a savage beating Wednesday night William R. Mc Cabe, 65, Joliet publisher and a former state legislator, remained in critical condition today.

Investigators checked various angles, including politics and gambling, which Mc Cabe fought editorially, in an effort to learn the motive for the attack. Robbery also was considered.

A former Will county state's attorney, Mc Cabe has published the spectator a weekly newspaper with vigorous political views, since 1936.

Father of 12 Dies From Poison Dose

Owosso, Mich., April 9 (AP)—The death of Cecil Bowers, 43, Antrim township farmer and the father of 12 children, was declared a suicide today by Coroner Kenneth Oakes.

The coroner said Bowers, who had been despondent, apparently drank poison. Bowers' body was discovered near his farm south of Bancroft Thursday.

LYNCHING BAN PUSHED

DEMOCRATS ARE SPLIT IN MAINE

Leaders At Odds Over Pledging Delegates

Augusta, Me., April 9 (AP)—Maine Democrats, assembling here today for a biennial convention, found some of their leaders at odds on pledging the state's 10 national convention votes.

If the delegates, to be named tomorrow, go to Philadelphia unimpaired, it will be the first time in more than 20 years.

State Senator Jean C. Boucher of Lewiston said yesterday he would fight any move to pledge. "I'm not opposed to (President) Truman," he declared, "but 20 years ago an attempt was made at an instructed delegation and it wrecked the party."

The 1928 delegation was pledged to the late Alfred E. Smith. As a result several state leaders bolted the party.

Mrs. Katherine M. Hickson of Bangor, national committeewoman, noted that the late Franklin D. Roosevelt had pledged delegates from Maine in each of his four campaigns, and said:

"I would be in favor of President Truman."

Berg Guilty of Reckless Driving

Kenneth A. Berg, 901 Second avenue south, pleaded guilty to a charge of reckless driving when he was arraigned in justice court this morning. He was fined $50 and $25 costs. Berg was arrested by city police in Escanaba Thursday evening at 8:15 o'clock.

QUINN DEMANDS VOTE RECOUNT

Petition Filed Today At Clerk's Office

Thomas X. Quinn, who placed fourth in the contest for three seats on the Escanaba city council at Monday's municipal election, this morning filed a petition for a recount in all of the eight precincts in the city. The petition was filed shortly before noon today by John Erickson, attorney for Quinn, with Carl Anderson, clerk of the city canvassing board.

On the basis of unofficial returns, Quinn lost the third council seat to Nevin J. Reynolds by a margin of one vote, 1196 to 1195. The board of canvassers Thursday certified the official vote as 1221 for Reynolds and 1195 for Quinn, finding an error of 25 votes in favor of Reynolds in the fourth precinct. The error may have developed, however, in transferring tally markers to the official tally book, in which event the 25 vote margin probably would not show up in a recount.

In the recount petition, Quinn alleged irregularities in the official returns. The petition alleged that there were improper returns by the election inspectors to the board of canvassers and that the accounting of the number of ballots cast did not tally with the official figures.

Unless petitions are filed by other candidates, the recount will include only those votes cast for Quinn and Reynolds and the findings of the canvassing board will be certified as correct for the remaining candidates.

Under the state laws affecting recount petitions, Reynolds has 24 hours in which to file a counter petition should he desire to do so. This will preclude actual recounting of the votes at least before Saturday night. The board of canvassers is scheduled to reconvene Saturday morning, at which time it is probable the board will make a decision on the recount petition and presumably also arrange for the recount.

The new council is scheduled to meet Monday night for the purpose of organizing for the biennial, a meeting date established by provisions of the city charter. Also the council is scheduled to select three additional city representatives to the county board of supervisors at the time. The county board of supervisors is scheduled to convene Tuesday for its organization meeting.

Because of this deadline, the desirability of perhaps the necessity of completing the recount and certifying the council winners before Monday night is evident. Failure to do so conceivably could result in a long drawn out legal battle involving both the actions of the city council at its meeting and the actions of the county board of supervisors at its meeting Tuesday.

Trapped New York Burglar Admits He Murdered Bride, 36

New York, April 9 (AP)—An unemployed house painter, police said, admitted early today he had slain Mrs. Vera Lotito, 36-year-old bride, when she surprised him while he was burglarizing her midtown apartment.

The man, Julio Ramirez Perez, 35-year-old Puerto Rican, booked on a homicide charge, had been held since last Friday, three days after the slaying, as a material witness in the case. He was arrested when he entered a pawnshop carrying a raccoon coat stolen from the slain woman's apartment.

Mrs. Lotito, a bride of four months, was stabbed 15 times and garroted with a necktie. Her body was found by her husband.

Police Captain Frank Dunn said Perez "signed a confession" early today admitting he plunged a screwdriver repeatedly into the body of Mrs. Lotito when she walked in on him while he was ransacking the Lotito apartment.

Fairbanks, Wells Townships Help RC Fund Drive

Wells and Fairbanks townships have completed solicitation for the Delta County Chapter Red Cross fund drive. Fairbanks township went over their quota and contributed $102.60, under chairmanship of Leslie Birk. Wells township was $21 short of its quota.

In Wells township Mrs. Leonard Winkling handled all solicitation as there was no volunteer chairman. In Fairbanks, Birk was assisted by Mrs. A. Rasmussen.

Zone 2 in Escanaba, comprising the area west of 10th street and Lake Shore drive between Fourth avenue south and 12th avenue south and east of 20th street, has been completed. Charles Schmidt was zone chairman and was assisted by Judy Shaw, Carol Leiper, Jane Holderman, Barbara Rose, Mrs. C. B. Dunathan, Mrs. D. A. Northrup, Mrs. Chas. Molloy, Mrs. J. A. Forman, Axel E. Anderson, Lynn Bergman, C. F. Pearson, Roy B. Johnson, Clarence Sovey, Louis Amundsen, Ray LaPorte, Albert J. Valind, Mrs. W. J. Hebert, Chet Morton, Fred A. Ross, Mrs. Wm. Ettenhofer, Mrs. Thos. A. McInerney, Mrs. Harvey Gasman, Mrs. Bernard Ammel, Mrs. Charles Sherlock, and Jack McCarthy.

PAN AMERICAN MEETING LAGS

Anti-Red Resolution To Be Pushed By Chile

Bogota, Colombia, April 9 (AP)—The Pan American Conference bogged down today in its efforts to obtain unanimous support of a resolution against Communism.

A Chilean source said Chile plans to ask the American nations next week to approve her anti-Communist resolution, even if there is no unanimity.

Last week Chile distributed among the delegates a draft calling for condemnation of what it termed foreign-inspired subversive activities. Chile asked the Pan American delegates to suggest changes they might deem necessary.

The Chilean source said the resolution had not been submitted to the conference because efforts still are being made to achieve unanimous approval in advance. Some nations have opposed bringing the matter before the parley unless assurance of such unanimity is obtained.

Further, the Chilean informant said Mexico and Venezuela had not decided whether they will support the resolution in the form it has been suggested by Chile.

charge, a step which could lead to still another court order.

The action of the southern producers stemmed from two long and unproductive negotiating sessions Wednesday and Thursday, at which UMW representatives refused to recognize the association.

The union continued the association is not qualified to negotiate because it did not sign the 1947 contract now in dispute. Individual members of the association did sign.

The association's complaint contended that Lewis' refusal to recognize the group constituted not only refusal to bargain but an attempt to coerce the operators in the choice of their bargaining agents.

As for the present Taft-Hartley act, President Truman told his news conference late yesterday

RED SHIP FREED IN DAMAGE SUIT

Government-Owned Boat Immune, Court Admits

BY EDWARD E. BOMAR
Washington, April 9 (AP)—The United States has given in to Russia's claim that a Soviet ship is immune from damage suits filed in this country.

State department officials said today a note to Ambassador Alexander S. Panyushkin conceding the point permitted the passenger vessel Rosita to sail belatedly from New York.

The American note said United States supreme court rulings upheld the Russian position set forth in Panyushkin's protest last month.

As a result, suits filed by two passengers claiming $75,000 damages for injuries on the Rosita's voyage to New York were dismissed by federal district courts. The ship sailed late Wednesday for Mediterranean and Black Sea ports minus 5,000 bags of mail which Longshoremen refused to load.

Panyushkin contended that as the Rosita was government-owned it enjoyed diplomatic immunity and was not subject to damage suits. The justice department dug up decisions dating back to 1926 backing his position. They apply to government owned ships of other nations as well.

day on the $70,000,000 state school aid bill, amended to give $9,000,000 to teachers' retirement in violation of the sales tax diversion amendment.

The Senate approved a $10,770,903 public health appropriation, defeating a move by Senator Perry W. Greene (R-Grand Rapids) to add $150,000 to buy streptomycin for county tuberculosis hospitals.

It was beaten when senators said an increase in the state aid to county hospitals would provide leeway for streptomycin treatment. The state aid rates were increased by the Senate from $1.50 and $2.50 a day per patient to $3.25.

The Senate added $2,000,000 to the budget by voting to increase the old age assistance maximum monthly grant from $45 to $50.

Bills passed by the House and sent to the Senate would permit the purchase of veterans bonus bonds before maturity, permit boat licenses to be placed other than on the bow, raise advertising fees for tax delinquent lists, permit counties and cities to build joint buildings and make clarifying corrections in the 1947 law setting up the waterways commission.

That the administration will enforce that law to the letter in an effort to end the coal strike.

Hartley said that if he decided a tougher law is necessary his committee's first move will be to act on a proposed amendment to apply the Sherman anti-trust law to labor unions.
